If Conspiracy To Depress Prices Is Proved, He Demands Punishment of Offender.

"CARRY OVER" CROP FIGURES ASSAILED

Senator Declares Recent Occurrences Are Working To Great Injury of Farmers.

Gulfport, Miss., October 3.—(P)—A second protest at the issuance by the bureau of economics, department of agriculture, of a carry-over statement which fixed the cotton unused from last year's crop at 600,000 bales more than that announced by Secretary H. G. Hester, of the New Orleans cotton exchange, was made to the secretary of agriculture today by Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi.

The protest, forwarded to Secretary of Agriculture W. M. Jardine, urged an investigation of the affair. In a statement made at the time his protest was sent to the secretary of agriculture, Senator Harrison said that it appeared that something was wrong in the department and indicated he would seek a congressional investigation.

Secretary Hester, through Representative Aswell, of the Louisiana congressional delegation, made a vigorous protest against the statement several days ago. While Secretary Hester did not indicate the point of variance, market experts analyzing the bureau of economics statement, said that it did not take into consideration the amount of cotton consumed by non-milling interests such as munitions factories and the silk, woolen and rayon industries.

Secretary Hester protested against the issuance of a statement which gave the official stamp to information derived from unofficial sources, some of which he termed inimical to the cotton industry. He termed the statement "grossly inaccurate."

Senator Harrison, while expressing the belief that Secretary Jardine was in sympathy with the cotton farmers of the south, feared that someone in his department was "putting something over to the injury of the cotton section." He cited the recent report predicting a price decline and pointed out that the carry-over report came just as the market was recovering from the effects of the other statement.

"The department of commerce is for statistical brains," he said, "and compiles and furnishes these facts," he said. "It is peculiarly strange that someone in the department of agriculture has assumed jurisdiction to issue such reports, evidently based on figures published by some English authority."

"These recent occurrences are coming at a time when the farmer is selling his crop and are working the greatest injury to him," he said. "It is not only discouraging but creates a situation that will demand at the convening of the next congress a searching and most thorough investigation."

"If there is someone in the department of agriculture conspiring with those who operate on the New York Cotton Exchange to break the market and beat down the price of cotton, they should be driven out, and if the New York exchange will permit such a situation to exist as circumstances in agriculture, they should be penalized by legislative enactment or put out of business."

DEPARTMENT DEFENDED BY DR. G. W. FORSTER
Raleigh, N. C., October 3.—(P)—Not only have charges against the bureau of agricultural economics at Washington been without sound foundation but these charges have weakened the department in its work with farmers, Dr. G. W. Forster, head of the department of agricultural economics at State college said tonight in a statement to the press.

Dr. Forster said the government agencies are probably more nearly correct in their estimate of the carry-over of cotton than is Hester, secretary of the New Orleans cotton exchange, who said in a recent statement that the methods used in the department in obtaining information about cotton supplies are not trustworthy.

JERSEY MURDER MYSTERY SOLVED OFFICIALS STATE

Prosecuting Attorney Will Ask Indictments Wednesday in Lillien-dahl Case.

Hammon, N. J., October 3.—(United News).—Atlantic county officials announced today that they had collected evidence that "solves" the murder of Dr. William Lillien-dahl.

Events in the nearly three-week-old mystery were promised to move henceforth at a quick pace.

S. Cameron Hinkle, assistant prosecutor, said he would appear Wednesday before the grand jury at May's Landing and seek the indictment of "one person, maybe more" for murdering the 72-year-old doctor, calling 60 witnesses.

Widow to Reenact Scene.
Tuesday, as a final step in the investigation, Mrs. Margaret Lillien-dahl, 42, will be taken to the lonely murder road by detectives to reenact the slaying of her husband as she described it.

Mrs. Lillien-dahl said that two negroes stopped their car, forced them from the main highway, and shot her husband to death while she fell in a faint. She is held in $25,000 bail as a material witness.

Authorities are dissatisfied with the widow's description of the two supposed negroes and her step-by-step account of the shooting. "Her trip to the scene in the Lillien-dahl automobile will be made under the eyes of a dozen or more troopers and detectives."

Her friendly relations with Willis Beach, chickenfarming neighbor of the Lillien-dahls, were shown from the limelight today by two affidavits concerning Beach, who fled Tuesday shortly before he was charged in a warrant with "aiding and abetting" in the murder.

Changed Bank Account.
One affidavit quotes Dr. Lillien-dahl as confiding to a neighbor that he had changed a joint bank account with his wife to a personal one and that he intended to leave Mrs. Lillien-dahl behind. "This was sworn by Frederick R. Anthony, who resides next door."

"If I can get rid of the old doctor, I'll have plenty of money and will be setting pretty," Beach is quoted in the second affidavit by Frank Shapard, a carpenter, who was dunning him for money due on a new henhouse.

The police have been told that Mrs. Lillien-dahl's health and nerves are becoming affected by the strain of the long investigation.

"They're all lies—these insinuations!" she exclaimed in a mad outburst.

FARMER SLAIN AND BODY BURIED
McRae, Ga., October 3.—(P)—W. H. Howell, 66, prominent farmer of Achord, a small station on the Southern railroad near here, was found buried today after having been missing since Saturday morning.

Howell has been missing from home since Saturday, Tom Whetley, a neighbor, said.

GRID FANS---ATTENTION!
If you are one of those optimists who believe they can look into the crystal of the future and "dope out" football scores before the games are played you will be interested in a story which appears in the sports section of this paper.

You are going to be given an opportunity—without incurring any obligation whatever—to exercise your psychic powers by naming the scores of six college football games to be played next Saturday. If your "medicine" is stronger than that of others in the contest and you guess more of the scores correctly than does anyone else, you will be presented with a pair of tickets to the Tech-Alabama game on Saturday week.

Attendance Records in Danger as Ideal Weather Lures Thousands of Grown-Ups to Exhibits.

Wide-eyed thousands of Georgia school students celebrated "school day" Monday at the Southeastern fair.

They surged, milled, squirmed and all but fought their way through a crowd of 45,000 persons who jammed every nook and corner of the grounds, the midway, shows and exhibition buildings.

But every inch of the ground gained in the mad rush to see the "whole works" in a few short hours was enjoyed by 50,000 eyes which were met with a new attraction at every blink.

The masterful male retained his boasted supremacy in the feature event of the day, a gigantic spelling bee, with two first places, but the remaining nine places were won by girls.

That, however, evened the score, according to supporters of the feminine contestants, and the contest ended with the matter still a moot question.

W. M. Ransom, 15-year-old student of Menlo High school, of Menlo, Ga., in Chatanooga county, was awarded the $100 cash prize as Georgia's champion speller.

Richard Clark, of Boys' High school, representing Fulton county, won second prize, $50, when he was forced to fall out of line after failing to spell correctly "apostasy."

Miss Virginia McLaughlin, of Greenville, Ga., Meriwether county, third; Annie Laurie Smith, of Oglethorpe county, fourth; Dorothy Linham, of Heard county, fifth; Ethel Houser, of Jefferson county, sixth; Florence Pound, of Spalding county, seventh; Sophia Owens, of Paulding county, eighth; Margaret Brown, of De Kalb county, ninth; Florence McCord, of Pike county, tenth, and Francis Harris, of Murray county, eleventh.

Dr. M. L. Brittain, president of Georgia Tech, was chairman of the contest with Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta schools and M. L. Dugan, state superintendent of education as assistants. Miss Mary Postell and Jere A. Wells, head of the Fulton county school system, were the referees.

Last 11 Contestants.
When the last 11 contestants were left in line and the mastery of words Book No. 2, the state text and the 1927 high school words list had been exhausted, the old-fashioned blue back speller was brought back into service and was used to determine the winner. It was several minutes after the old book had been in use before the cash prize winners began to fall out.

The words that stumbling blocks for the contestants in their order of misspelling were: salable, certain, sovereign, aviator, architect, analyze, medicine, suburb, illiterate, baptize, eminent, definite, parity, luxury, heresy, rapier, nautilus, carly, salient, intricacy, miscellaneous, parsimony, voluntary, maxillary, predilection, purgatory, monetary, adjudicate.

COUNCIL OPPOSES TIME CHANGE PLAN

Passes Resolution Asking I. C. C. Refrain From Authorizing Eastern Time Here.

City council Monday afternoon by a vote of 26 to 7 passed a resolution asking the interstate commerce commission to refrain from authorizing eastern time for Atlanta unless a request for the "fast time" comes from council, and defeated a more designed to secure a public hearing on the issue before the councilmanic ordinance committee.

The motion to refer the matter to the ordinance committee failed by a vote of 15 to 15, many of those who finally cast ballots in favor of the original request taking the position that council should not pass it without giving proponents an opportunity to explain its "advantages" to the city.

Alderman Oscar Williamson and Councilmen A. J. Orme and Jack Savage led a bitter but futile fight to prevent action on the resolution.

Levine Visits Pope Dressed In Sack Suit

Vatican Waives Usual Formalities of Evening Attire for Aviator.

Rome, October 3.—(United News).—Where emperors have bowed to the stiff formality on the Vatican, Charles A. Levine today went to see the pope in a sack suit, a slouch hat and a soft-collared shirt.

"A frock coat, or evening dress, is customary for special audiences," said the chamberlain.

"Aviators don't carry them," said Levine, "but I'll hire one if you like."

Laughingly, the chamberlain replied that an exception would be made in Levine's case in honor of his transatlantic flight with Clarence Chamberlain.

The pope received Levine cordially, congratulated him on his feats, expressed admiration of his courage and initiative, wished him success in his future enterprises, and blessed him and his family.

"LINDBERGH DAY" PLANS COMPLETE

Parade, Reception and Dinner To Follow Arrival Here at 2 P. M. October 11.

Faced with the difficulty of satisfying popular interest manifest in the coming of Colonel Charles Lindbergh, in his "Spirit of St. Louis," a week from today, and the necessity of preventing the energies of the young aviator, the special "Lindbergh Day" committee, appointed by Mayor Ragsdale, came to a final agreement on the reception program late Monday.

Arrangements for the reception of Colonel Lindbergh when he arrives in Atlanta, Tuesday, October 11, the sixty-ninth city visited since beginning his nation-wide tour in the interest of aeronautics, were announced Monday night by Henderson Hallman, chairman of the special committee.

Traveling alone in his famous plane, Lindbergh is scheduled to land at Candler field at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Preceding him by half an hour will be the large Fairchild monoplane carrying the government officials aiding Lindbergh in his strenuous journey.

Upon Lindbergh's arrival, amid what is expected to be the largest gathering ever assembled at Atlanta's airport, his party will proceed directly to Atlanta. The parade through the streets will follow, bringing the party to Grant field, at Georgia Tech, where the conqueror of the Atlantic will again be greeted by a great throng. Here the city's general reception will begin at 3:30 o'clock and will be featured by Lindbergh's address. Mrs. S. M. Inman and Gregory Bowden will preside at the reception.

Pershing Point Ceremonies.
As the next step in the program Lindbergh and his party will proceed to the Pershing point memorial, where a wreath presented by Mrs. Sam D. Jones, president of the War Mothers' Service Star Legion, will be laid by the Lone Eagle on the soldiers' monument. From there Lindbergh will visit the United States Veterans' hospital on Peachtree road to greet the wounded soldiers. The party will then return to the Atlanta Biltmore hotel, where an entire floor has been set aside for the distinguished party.

Colonel Lindbergh will retire to his suite to obtain some rest for the evening program. At 7 o'clock the banquet at the Ansley hotel will begin.

Among the guests at the banquet will be the governor and the mayor, United States senators from Georgia, the federal judges now holding court here, including Judges Sibley, Foster, Walker and Bryan, the Georgia judiciary and the reception committee. An effort will be made for each

SHERIFF STONED; WORKER BEATEN BY OHIO MINERS

Situation Is "Critical and Rapidly Getting Out of Control," According to Officials.

St. Clairsville, Ohio, October 3.—(P)—Disorders in three Belmont county mines tonight resulted in the stoning of Sheriff C. C. Hardesty and deputies, beating of a mine worker and more than fifty arrests. Sheriff Hardesty termed the situation "critical" and rapidly getting beyond control.

Sheriff Hardesty reported that 1,000 union sympathizers, both men and women, lined the two mile road from Shadyside to the Webb mine as he was escorting thirty non-union laborers to work and three rocks, stones and eggs at him and his three deputies. None of them was seriously hurt.

The party ran the gauntlet to the mine without making any attempt to arrest their attackers.

Woman Assaults Sheriff.
One woman, armed with an umbrella, attacked the sheriff, he said, but she failed to harm him. The mob shouted for release of their officials, who were arraigned at Steubenville today on federal charges of violating an injunction order.

At the Florence mine, near St. Clairsville, a non-union worker was stoned and beaten by several men who drove up in a car filled with rocks, dentists said. Harry Staskey and John Jabrosky were arrested and placed in the county jail on charges of assault with intent to kill. The victim's name was not learned.

Over at the Florence mine, near Martins ferry, federal deputies were arresting union pickets in groups of four tonight. Late tonight the total stood at 45 arrests, with more being made hourly.

Pickets Ordered Away.
H. H. Grave, in charge of federal deputies at the Florence mine, ordered union pickets away from the property under a federal injunction restraining pickets from interfering with operations.

The men failed to leave, he said, and four pickets were arrested. Four more promptly took their place and also were arrested. This has continued since this afternoon and tonight it was reported several hundred union men were in line waiting to fill the gaps as their members were arrested. Their officials told them they were "in the right" it was reported.

It was understood United States Marshal Borthwick ordered his men to "enforce the law if it takes all the men they have."

No attempt was made to hold those arrested, officers merely taking down their names.

Longest disturbance came after a long period of quiet and was entirely

BANKERS INDICTED BY FAYETTE JURY

A. O. Blalock and Three Others Charged With Embezzlement of County Funds At Fayetteville.

Fayetteville, Ga., October 3.—(Special).—Indictments charging "embezzlement and misappropriation of public funds" were returned here today by the Fayette county grand jury against four officers of the Bank of Fayetteville, which closed its doors on September 7. Those indicted were A. O. Blalock, president of the bank; D. B. Blalock, vice president; E. V. Jones, cashier, and Y. H. Longino, former cashier. Jones succeeded Longino as cashier last June.

Longino made bond today and the others are expected to post bond Tuesday.

The indictments are the outgrowth of the failure of the bank which was the county depository in lieu of a county treasurer. The amount named in the indictments as having been misappropriated was placed at $45,000 to $50,000. "When the office of county treasurer was abolished several years ago the bank was designated as depository for the funds of the county. The bank was a private institution operated by A. O. Blalock and the S. T. Blalock estate. A. O. Blalock was former internal revenue collector with headquarters in Atlanta."

The grand jury organized this morning after Fayette county court opened with Judge W. E. H. Seay, Jr., of Griffin, presiding and with Emmet Owen, of Zebulon, solicitor general, looking after the state's interests.

It is not known if the bank case will be tried at this term of court.

General Arnulfo Gomez and Francisco Serrano Revolt Against Iron Rule of Calles.

OBREGON PLANNING TO ROUTE HIS FOES

Admission of Revolt Is Made By President Who Predicts Crushing of Rebellion.

Mexico City, October 3.—(P)—The Mexican presidential campaign may be decided on the battlefield.

Two presidential candidates, General Arnulfo Gomez and Francisco Serrano, leading anti-reactionists or anti-Obregonists, according to official statements have revolted, while the third candidate, General Alvaro Obregon, is ready to take the field against them.

Eight hundred soldiers and officers revolted in Mexico City this morning, while similar outbreaks are reported from Torreon and Vera Cruz.

The Calles government claims to be in full control of the situation and promises punishment of the perpetrators within 48 hours.

ADMISSION OF REVOLT IS MADE BY CALLES.
Mexico City, October 3.—(P)—Admission of the revolt of soldiers in Torreon and an attempted outbreak at Vera Cruz is contained in a statement issued by President Calles today.

The statement says one battalion acting under General Serrano's orders revolted at Torreon, state of Coahuila. They were immediately attacked by loyal troops and after a battle lasting three hours were defeated. It is said. All the rebel officers were taken prisoners and the soldiers disarmed. The rebels are being court-martialed.

At Vera Cruz two regiments acting under orders of General Arnulfo Gomez attempted a revolt.

Revolt Attempted.
In another statement the president confirmed that Generals Gomez and Serrano are attempting to create a revolution.

He predicted that both will be captured and properly punished within 48 hours.

Two thousand loyal troops left Mexico City this afternoon to overtake 800 rebel soldiers of the Mexico City garrison. The rebels are reported by airplane scouts to be near Texcoco, not far from the federal capital. The president predicted these rebels will be wiped out.

FIRST SHOT FIRED IN NEW REVOLUTION.
Nogales, Ariz., October 3.—(P)—Dispatches of The Nogales Herald today told of first shots being fired shortly after noon today in the ranks of the federal troops of the Mexico City garrison.

Several airplanes of the two squadrons sent out early this morning, hurled bombs into the ranks of the rebelling troops, marching from Mexico City in the direction of Puebla. The bombs caused an unknown loss of life and created havoc in the ranks of the followers of General Ignacio Alameda, former chief of staff of the capital garrison and accused of leading the revolt.

Four thousand federals, dispatched in pursuit of the mutinous three regiments this morning, were expected to

COLUMBUS PASTOR IS BOUND OVER

Charlotte, N. C., October 3.—(AP)—A speedy trial was in prospect for the Rev. Willis F. Jordan, charged with bigamy, late today when the minister at a hearing here was bound over to the present term of Mecklenburg county superior court under a $10,000 bond. Solicitor John G. Carpenter said he expected to call the case Wednesday.

Testimony of Mrs. Emma Landridge-Jordan, whom Jordan is alleged to have bigamously married here August 19, figured prominently in the preliminary. Counsel for the defense has announced that Mrs. Vessie Ware Jordan, now with her brother at Winding Gulf, W. Va., whom Jordan claims as his "true wife," will be present to offer testimony in the minister's behalf when the trial begins.

The hearing today was before Magistrate J. M. Alexander, Jr., whom the accused and Mrs. Landridge, who had made her home in Washington, were married. The magistrate refused to lower the bond from the figure set when Jordan was brought here last Friday from Grand Rapids, Mich., where he was arrested upon warrant by Sheriff John R. Irwin, Jr., of that county.

Met Him Twice.
Admission that she spent the night with Jordan in a Charlotte hotel the night before they were married was made on the stand by Mrs. Landridge-Jordan. She said she left Washington with Jordan after having met him only twice, because "I thought that there was a man I could have confidence in, thought he was a man fit to live with."

"His white hair and misfortune made a touching appeal for me," she said. "I was not deeply in love with him but I honored and respected him." According to Mrs. Landridge-Jordan's testimony, she first met Jordan at the home of her daughter, at 77 B. street, Washington, D. C., in June or July. On August 19, less than two months, they were married at the offices of Magistrate J. M. Alexander, Jr. in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Landridge-Jordan testified, as a result of her activity in Christian work.

A series of love letters, the first beginning with the formal address of "My Dear Mrs. Landridge" and a later one with "My Precious Sweetheart Emma," figured prominently in the courtship, it developed at the hearing. The first was dated Herndon, Va., July 9 and the other from Herndon, Va., August 23. The first letter, it was noted, was dated from Herndon, Va., July 9 and the other from Herndon, Va., August 23. and empty heart of mine, but over all supreme," the minister wrote in the note of July 9.

Recruits Troubles.

Reciting various "tribulations"—loss of his pastorate and a trying experience in which he avowed he had "been set upon by bandits and robbed of $157, beaten into unconsciousness and left for dead,"—Jordan in a letter dated August 8 from Herndon, W. Va., wrote:

"Listen, dearie, if you can get possession of your home in Birmingham, or rooms there or elsewhere, let us always be together. Am so broken up and robbed and I do want you so much."

In the letter from Roanoke August 13, Jordan suggested:

"You meet my train at Union station, and we will go on to Baltimore and fix all o. k. . . . If you will o. k. this plan or prepare a better one, I'll start to you at once upon receipt of your reply to this and wire you what time will arrive."

Mrs. Landridge-Jordan, a somewhat handsome woman of middle age, who entered Magistrate Alexander's office in company with W. T. Gloer, of the Gloucester county and Philadelphia police were endeavoring to learn whether Yarro had anything to do with the mysterious disappearance two years ago of his own wife, Mrs. Ruth Jones Yarro, 21.

When Yarro was confronted this morning, in the office of Sheriff John B. Strattan, with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Sylvia Michaels, of Philadelphia, a comely woman of 45, Mrs. Michaels screamed, "What did you do with my daughter?"

Search for Yarro's Wife.
Two men from the Philadelphia police homicide bureau have joined local authorities in the search for Yarro's wife. She was last seen in Atlantic City, working as a waitress.

Little Rose Sarlo, who was brutally murdered after she had repulsed Yarro's advances in an automobile last Saturday night, will be buried next Wednesday morning after a solemn high requiem mass to be held in St. Patrick's church, where she was the teacher of 40 children in the first communion class.

Police revealed today that beneath the murder lay a love motive. They disclosed the contents of notes which Yarro used to drop at her house as he passed in the bus he drove. They were all much like this:

Yarro's Love Notes.
"I am loving you more each day. I have always wanted to meet you. I have never thought of anyone as I have of you. I surely have fallen hard for you. Can't you slip out just for tonight? George."

It was learned that news of Yarro's predicament is being kept from his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Yarro, 62, of Philadelphia, where her son lived. She is critically ill.

Yarro was sullen today when he was arraigned before Judge Harry E. Friant on a charge of murder, and held without bail, pending action of the grand jury.

Georgia Storm Sweeps Carolina

Charlotte, N. C., October 3.—(AP)—Whipping inland suddenly over the northern coast of Georgia and the southeastern part of South Carolina, a tropical storm of "slight intensity" last night and early today broke the thought that has prevailed for a month over South Carolina and much of North Carolina.

With it went high winds along the coast but little damage was reported most of this being in Charleston where telephone and power lines were blown down crippling communications for a time. Some trees also were blown down in Charleston.

Shipping along the coast was not bothered by the storm, according to all reports received here although at times the wind reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour.

Throughout the Carolinas today, except in isolated instances, heavy downpours of rain were reported. Charleston reported 1.17 inches; Columbia 2.5; Charlotte 1.6 inches and other points similar downpours. In most sections tonight, however, the weather had cleared up somewhat.

Union, S. C., and Rocky Mount, N. C., reported sweltering summer weather following the rains. That morning a light shower fell.

The storm aided in extinguishing a forest and peat fire on Harker's Island that had been raging for nine days.

Atlanta Sees Old and New in Motor World As Constitution's Old Car Parade Passes

"Pinched, b'gosh!" might be a good title for this picture, which shows A. O. Lee, owner and driver of a 1900 Sears-Roebuck gas buggy, in the act of getting a "ticket" from Patrolman Joe Schilling. For what? Speeding, of course. The ancient car appeared in The Constitution's old car parade Monday and the arrest "stunt" provided amusement for hundreds of onlookers.

Atlanta saw the old and the new run side by side in The Constitution's old car parade Monday. The old cars, which were the main attraction, were the 100,000-mile class in many instances; cars that represented the earliest products of the motor industry. And while packed throngs along the route of the unique procession of antiquity watched the relics of the motor days of the early 1900s, they were able to visualize in graphic manner the mighty progress the automobile industry has made, for side by side with the old-timers purred the sleek, resplendent motors of 1927.

The parade was one of the most interesting spectacles of its kind ever held here and afforded intense attraction to the thousands who watched it wind its way through the downtown traffic with many a protesting shriek and crash from the old cars and with the new cars panning easily along like racing dogs on leashes.

The parade formed at North avenue and Peachtree street and went down Peachtree and Whitehall to Trinity avenue and back by way of Broad and Peachtree streets.

TRADES REPORTED IN G. O. P. CONTEST

Washington, October 3.—(AP)—With the gathering here of republican leaders from many sections of the country, Washington today found itself in an atmosphere surcharged with statements, promises, opinions and even reports of political trading involving the presidential nomination next year.

While Chairman William M. Butler was conferring with national committee members and political traders, declaring that there was a report that Secretary Hoover had agreed to support the Boulder-Canyon dam bill in return for a promise from Senator Johnson, of California, of California's vote in the republican national convention.

Secretary Hoover, who has been endorsed by a number of republican leaders for the presidential nomination, declined to comment on the Madison statement, but some of his friends recalled that he had endorsed the Swing-Johnson Boulder-Canyon measure at the last session of congress.

The national chairman said the committee would meet here early in December to decide definitely upon a convention place, adding that cities now under consideration include Minneapolis, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Kansas City, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Miami, Fla., Omaha, New York, San Antonio and Memphis, Tenn.

Incidentally, Butler said there was to be no meeting of the executive committee of the national committee tomorrow as had been understood, since the issuing of invitations for members of the national committee to meet him in Washington this week.

He said he was conferring with all committee and other leaders who came to Washington.

The chairman also was emphatic in his declaration that the national committee's endorsement of Wisconsin was not one of the subjects for discussion at this time. The Wisconsin party post has been vacant since the 1924 convention and there had been various reports that the place soon would be filled with the hopes that the republicans by perfecting a strong organization could swing that state back into the regular republican column.

HOW TO HAVE A CLEAR HEAD

End Stiffness, Sneezing, Hurdiness, Inflammation

Do you get up in the morning with a stopped-up nose? Are your breathing passages clogged with a cold? Are you subject to catarrh, bronchial irritations, asthma, or hay fever? Have you that mean, low-spirited feeling which comes from lack of proper oxygen? If so, here is a pleasant, harmless cigarette that will clear out the head, nose and throat.

These cigarettes are the formula of Dr. J. W. Blosser, and are composed of medicinal flowers, herbs and berries.

Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes contain no tobacco, no cubes, nothing habit-forming, and are entirely harmless. They are used by women and children as well as men.

It is so simple to inhale this pleasant and soothing smoke. Much more convenient than using sprays, washes, douches, etc.

If you suffer from any catarrhal trouble, catarrhal deafness, asthma, hay fever, bronchial irritations or frequent colds, get from any druggist a convenient pocket size package of Dr. Blosser's Cigarettes, and prove for yourself their pleasantly beneficial effects.—(adv.)

WIFE OF SLAYER SOUGHT BY POLICE

BY ARTHUR MEFFORD.
(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Woodbury, N. J., October 3.—While local school girls were depicting George Yarro, 28, confessed murderer of pretty 17-year-old Rose Sarlo, as a dashing sheik, who boasted of his conquests and asked many of them for dates, Gloucester county and Philadelphia police were endeavoring to learn whether Yarro had anything to do with the mysterious disappearance two years ago of his own wife, Mrs. Ruth Jones Yarro, 21.

When Yarro was confronted this morning, in the office of Sheriff John B. Strattan, with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Sylvia Michaels, of Philadelphia, a comely woman of 45, Mrs. Michaels screamed, "What did you do with my daughter?"

Search for Yarro's Wife.
Two men from the Philadelphia police homicide bureau have joined local authorities in the search for Yarro's wife. She was last seen in Atlantic City, working as a waitress.

Little Rose Sarlo, who was brutally murdered after she had repulsed Yarro's advances in an automobile last Saturday night, will be buried next Wednesday morning after a solemn high requiem mass to be held in St. Patrick's church, where she was the teacher of 40 children in the first communion class.

Police revealed today that beneath the murder lay a love motive. They disclosed the contents of notes which Yarro used to drop at her house as he passed in the bus he drove. They were all much like this:

Yarro's Love Notes.
"I am loving you more each day. I have always wanted to meet you. I have never thought of anyone as I have of you. I surely have fallen hard for you. Can't you slip out just for tonight? George."

It was learned that news of Yarro's predicament is being kept from his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Yarro, 62, of Philadelphia, where her son lived. She is critically ill.

Yarro was sullen today when he was arraigned before Judge Harry E. Friant on a charge of murder, and held without bail, pending action of the grand jury.

If Alertox Fails In Constipation Call A Doctor

This new preparation acts with time-clock precision in 30 to 90 minutes; gives one thorough elimination and no harm; does not interfere with duties, habits or diet, and guaranteed to remove, in one action, more poison from the system than any other known formula, leaving you buoyant, vivacious and alert, mentally and physically.

These are but a few of the many wonderful advantages of this latest discovery known as "Alertox," which flushes the alimentary tract and re-establishes a natural, healthy liver and bowel action, and is much quicker, more palatable and far more effective than calomel, oils or other nauseating cathartics that merely speed the liver and work you to death.

Alertox also alkalizes the system and thoroughly cleanses it of the poisons that cause auto-intoxication. Get a bottle from your druggist, and if you are not satisfied after taking one dose, get your money back. If your druggist cannot supply Alertox, send direct to Crystal Carbonic Laboratories, Dept. 12, Atlanta, Ga., upon receipt of price, 60c.—(adv.)

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN SUED FOR ALIMONY

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)

Los Angeles, Calif., October 3.—Mrs. Josephine Fladune Bushman, who divorced Francis X. Bushman in Baltimore in 1918, filed suit claiming $32,298 back alimony here today. Her papers assert that notwithstanding an award of $40,000 at the rate of $3,000 a year, she has received only a few thousand dollars from the actor in nine years.

Mother—

Be sure you get Pepsodent for child's teeth and gums

(Special Film-Removing Dentifrice)

DO you want your child to have prettier teeth now, and better protection from serious tooth and gum troubles all through later life?

Mail the coupon then for a 10-day tube of Pepsodent, free. See what the world's leading dentists urge mothers to use as science's latest attainment in tooth and gum care.

Film . . . what it is
The enemy of teeth and gums
You will notice a film on your child's teeth. That's a frequent danger sign—an invitation for tooth and gum troubles. The cause is a stubborn film that you can feel by running your tongue across your own teeth.

More brushing won't do. You must combat it. Ordinary dentifrices fail to fight that film successfully.

Film is the greatest enemy of tooth health. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs breed in it and imperil both teeth and gums. The acid that leads to early decay forms. Old-type methods failed to combat it. So men of science engaged themselves in discovering an effective combatant—one new and different from any known.

It removes that film
And firms the gums
Now in Pepsodent, two new combatants are embodied—combatants approved by highest dental authority. It cures the film, gently removes it; then firms the gums. It keeps the teeth whiter, cleaner, more sparkling. It is the modern scientific method for better tooth protection. Insist upon it. Get a tube today at your druggist's. Or mail the coupon.

FAIR SKIES REMOVE KANSAS FLOOD THREAT

Kansas City, October 3.—(P)—Fair skies today put an end to the incessant rains of last week in the southwest and removed the threat of disastrous floods.

The most serious flood situation tonight was in southeastern Kansas, where the Verdigris river had inundated thousands of acres of farm lands and driven hundreds of persons from their homes.

More than 100 families living on the outskirts of Independence, Kan., had evacuated their dwellings. Minor damage was reported at Coffeyville and Neodesha.

Roads were impassable in south-west Missouri today following a tornado and torrential rain, which struck that territory early yesterday. Scores of buildings were wrecked or damaged, thousands of trees uprooted and many telegraph and telephone poles leveled by the tornado, which struck between Columbus and Crestline, Kan., and swept across into Missouri, causing heavy damage near Ne-osha. No one was reported injured, however. The storm also struck Joylin, Webb City and Cartersville with great force.

Miss Julia Reynolds, Daughter of Judge, Ends Life With Shot

St. Louis, October 3.—(P)—Miss Julia Reynolds, 41, daughter of the late George G. Reynolds, former presiding judge of the St. Louis court of appeals, committed suicide today by shooting. A 32-caliber revolver was found within reach of her hand. She recently suffered a nervous breakdown.

1 OUT OF 9 CAROLINA AUTO MISHAPS FATAL

Raleigh, N. C., October 3.—(P)—Approximately one out of every nine automobile accidents taking place on the state highway system during the month of August resulted fatally, according to a compilation made today by the automobile bureau of the state department of revenue.

Four hundred accidents were listed as occurring and 42 of these were fatal.

MEMORIAL HEAD FINDS INTEREST IN FAR WEST

Astonishment by the extent to which the people of the west are familiar with the Stone Mountain memorial, was expressed by Hollis N. Randolph, president of the memorial association, upon his return to Atlanta after an extended vacation in that section of the United States.

"Everybody I met, in every place I visited in the west, knew about the Stone Mountain memorial. I talked with waiters, with street car motormen, with salesmen in stores, bellboys in hotels, soda dispensers, newspaper reporters, senators, congressmen, governors and others, and I found only one man that was not familiar with the essential details of the project."

"The people of the west regard it as the equal of the Yosemite, or the Grand Canyon, or the Glacier of the national park, or even Yellowstone national park," Mr. Randolph added. During his trip, which took him to Chicago, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Seattle, Vancouver and numerous other points, Mr. Randolph visited at Salt Lake City, Senator Snoot, who was the author of the senate bill providing for the coinage of the United States memorial half-dollar. His interest in the monument has increased rather than diminished, Mr. Randolph said, and he regards the coinage of the Stone Mountain half-dollar as one of the distinctive achievements of his entire political career.

Federal Control Of Flood Work Recommended

Washington, October 3.—(P)—Conclusions of the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States which has just completed an inspection of the Mississippi flood area that the problem of flood control is a national problem and must be dealt with by the federal government, was reported informally today to Secretary Davis, of the war department.

The committee called on Davis headed by its chairman, Frederick A. Delano, of Washington. Its report to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States will not be ready for presentation until October 15, but the committee was able to inform the war secretary of certain points on which its members are in agreement.

U. S. INSPECTORS CONTINUE TO GRILL 11 ALLEGED ALIENS

Federal inspectors Monday afternoon continued to grill the 11 alleged aliens being held at police headquarters following their arrest Saturday night by city police at the carnival now operating at the Southeastern fair.

No definite action will be taken by the authorities until the inspectors file their report, which is expected to be done late today. The alleged aliens are said to be of French, French-Canadian and Indian descent and are supposed to have entered the United States without paying any head tax.

J. A. PERRY TAKING SON TO NEW YORK FOR HIP OPERATION

James A. Perry, chairman of the state public service commission, left Atlanta Monday night for New York to place his 19-year-old son, Joe Perry, in the New York Orthopedic hospital for an operation on his hip.

Young Joe Perry has won much interest recently because of the patience with which he has suffered for more than two years following an unfortunate operation performed on him in an effort to correct a slight lameness in his leg. For two years, he has not been able to move except with the aid of a nurse and has suffered intense agony but has preserved a happy and hopeful disposition in the face of these obstacles.

Secretarial staff of the local Y. W. C. A. has been augmented by Miss Lucile Crabtree and Miss Aileen Paul, according to the announcement Monday of Miss Julia Ewing White, general secretary of the organization.

Miss Crabtree, who comes to Atlanta from the Norfolk, Va., Y. W. C. A., will be director of education at the local "Y." She had similar duties in Norfolk.

Miss Paul will direct the activities of Atlanta business girls who are affiliated with Y. W. C. A. clubs. She is from Center, Texas, and comes from the national training school of the Y. W. C. A.

MATSON LEAVES ESTATE OF $200,000 TO SISTER

The will of the late Thomas Dickey Matson, providing for the bequest of an estate valued at approximately $200,000 to his sister, Miss Eleanor Sharp Matson, of 1106 St. Charles place, was filed for probate in common form Monday in the office of the Fulton county ordinary. All of the property, after the debts and obligations of the deceased are paid, is to go to Miss Matson, who is named executrix of the estate. The will was filed by Smith, Hammond & Smith, as attorneys.

DUVALL MOTION DELAYS HOOSIER GRAFT HEARING

Indianapolis, October 3.—(P)—Major John L. Duvall, of Indianapolis, today filed a motion for a change of venue from Judge James A. Collins in Marion county criminal court when he appeared for arraignment on a charge of violating the corrupt practices act.

Defense and prosecuting attorneys then agreed that no further action will be taken until disposal of Duvall's motion for a new trial in a similar case in which he was convicted several weeks ago. The motion in that case is to be heard Saturday.

Governor Ed Jackson, George V. Coffin and Robert J. Marsh, named jointly in an indictment charging conspiracy to commit a felony and attempted bribery, originally were to have been arraigned today, but late last week the action was postponed until November 7.

U. S. COURT OF APPEALS TO CONSIDER 31 CASES

The United States circuit court of appeals convened Monday for the regular October term with a calendar of 31 cases scheduled for hearing before Judges R. W. Walker, of Huntsville, Ala.; N. P. Bryan, of Jacksonville, Fla.; and Rufus E. Foster, of New Orleans, La.

The session Monday was occupied with the consideration of three cases, one of which was submitted on briefs alone. This was the case of the Security Mortgage company against Charles A. Powers, trustee. Arguments were heard in the case of Clarence H. Calhoun, trustee, against Decker-William Lumber company, et al. and in the case of Mrs. Ruby J. Jett against the grand lodge of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Among the important cases scheduled for hearing are decisions involving death sentences imposed upon Wade Johnson, of Jones county, and James McSwain, of Bibb county. Johnson was sentenced to the electric chair for an attack upon an aged woman in Jones county and after his conviction and sentence had been upheld by the state courts, he entered the federal courts with an attack on the constitutionality of the electrocution law. The McSwain case raises a similar question.

RUN DOWN BY TRUCK, CHILD BADLY INJURED

Frank Norris, 7, of 979 Myrtle street, was severely injured when knocked down by a light truck at the corner of Broad and Marietta streets about 9 o'clock Monday morning, according to police reports.

Patrolman H. G. Cunningham, who investigated the accident, made a charge of reckless driving against Will Banks, of 131-B Bass street, the driver of the truck. The Norris child suffered bruises and cuts about the body.

DANCERS TO APPEAR AT CLUB'S LUNCHEON

A special program of dancing has been arranged for the regular luncheon of the American Business club today at the Henry Grady hotel, it was announced Monday.

The Margaret Moore School of Dancing will present Miss Janet Kelly and Miss Patricia Sanders in special numbers.

LOCAL FIRM INCLUDED IN BIG EASTERN MERGER

The Southern Construction and Supply company has merged into the York Ice Machinery corporation, of York, Pa., along with eight other companies, it was announced at the office of the Atlanta company Monday.

The capital of the York corporation is $200,000,000. The Atlanta plant, at 412 Houston street, is hereafter to be known as the York Ice Machinery corporation and will continue its sale of ice-making machinery, carrying on and expanding its present activities. According to an announcement from York, Pa., the consolidation was made to increase the manufacturing and selling efficiency of the companies.

In addition to the Atlanta concern, the companies included in the merger are the York Manufacturing company, the York Milk Machinery company, the York Oil and Chemical company, the Shipley Construction and Supply company, of Brooklyn; the Bay State Construction and Supply company, of Boston; the Greenwald Construction company, of Cleveland, and the York Products company, of St. Louis.

JUDGE LUKE TO SPEAK BEFORE MASONIC CLUB

Judge Roscoe Luke, of the Georgia court of appeals, will deliver a humorous address at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to members of the Atlanta Masonic club at the regular weekly meeting of the organization at the Winecoff hotel.

Music will be furnished by Mrs. Fowler, well known to all club members, and who has rendered musical selections at previous meetings.

600 CRIMINAL CASES FACE CIRCUIT COURT

More than 600 criminal cases compose the calendar for the October term of the northern district United States circuit court which convened Monday morning with Judge Samuel H. Sibley presiding.

The majority of the cases are against violators of the national prohibition laws. This is said to be the largest criminal calendar in the history of the district court.

$70,000 BOND ISSUE IS VOTED AT JESUP

Jesup, Ga., October 3.—(P)—Jesup today voted by a big majority three municipal bond issues, totaling $70,000. The bonds cover waterworks, sewerage and paving projects.

Two hundred votes were cast and only 10 were against sewerage, while an even dozen votes were cast against each of the other two issues.

NEGRESS BOUND OVER FOR DRY VIOLATION

Pleading guilty Monday to possessing 17 pints of corn liquor, Georgia Mitchell, negro, of 32 Young street, was bound over to the federal grand jury under $200 bond by United States Commissioner L. S. Ledbetter.

The negress told the commissioner that the whisky was brought to her home by a man who asked her to allow him to leave it there for a few minutes. The alleged owner of the liquor did not return, the negress said, so she laid it away in a trap in the floor of a clothes closet in her home, where it was discovered by federal prohibition officers.

OKEFENOKEE MAY BE PRESERVED

Waycross, Ga., October 3.—(Special.)—That the Okefenokee swamp, wonderland of America, will be a national reservation and that Waycross will become the gateway of one of the greatest natural parks in America, is the expression of Dr. George M. MacDonell, of Miami, president of the Society For the Preservation of the Okefenokee.

Dr. MacDonell urged the importance of the Okefenokee as an asset to Waycross and the state of Georgia, before the various civic clubs at a meeting here emphasizing that the great wonderland has no counterpart in the world from a scientific and educational standpoint.

"It is a well-known fact that people in far sections of the United States recognize the Okefenokee in its true light more readily than do native Georgians who live at its door," Dr. MacDonell said.

"Little as you think, there is an agitation, and a sincere one, among men who are in a position to know the real value of the Okefenokee, for a national reservation, and I feel sure that the time will come when this spot will be one of the show places of the entire United States." Dr. MacDonell succeeded the late Dr. J. F. Wilson, prominently known Georgia naturalist, as the active head of the society.

AMERICA DRAFTING REPLY TO FRANCE

Washington, October 3.—(AP)—A study of the published French tariff note received Saturday tended today to strengthen the impression held by Washington officials that employment of the flexible provisions of the American tariff act, as suggested by the French, might answer their complaints against excessive duties.

Use of the flexible provisions, by which the president can raise or lower tariff duties based on the difference in costs of production here and abroad, appeared to be all the French note requested in connection with establishing a basis for treaty negotiations which would give the United States as favorable treatment as any other nation in French markets.

At the state department it was said authoritatively that this government was ready to investigate comparative production costs, without, however, pledging itself in advance of the result, and also to study existing administration of plant quarantine laws, the purpose of act and even the prohibition act so far as they might discriminate against French goods.

The French note, while containing such argument of a controversial nature, was said officially to be conciliatory. The hope of the administration that the way may be thus opened to negotiation of a commercial treaty was tempered, however, with concern over the status to be given American goods in French markets during the interim. They now are burdened with the maximum French tariff rates in certain cases and it was felt here that pending completion of a treaty American exports should be subjected to less severe levies.

France rejected the original American request for negotiations on the basis of a most-favored-nation treaty, proposing instead a reciprocity pact. She also rejected at that time the American request for restoration of the tariff status of American goods prior to the French decree of August 30, pending ratification of such a treaty.

The counter French offer was a 50 per cent reduction of maximum rates during the negotiations, which officials here hold would have left American products at serious disadvantage in competition with German, British or other goods that take the French minimum rate.

On that basis the French 50 per cent cut proposal is wholly unsatisfactory to the Washington government. It is a concession of a more favorable temporary arrangement can be worked out for the treaty negotiation period, a clash on that point conceivably could interrupt the more conciliatory trend of the diplomatic conversations evident today.

Drafting of the American answer is in progress and Secretary Kellogg anticipates that it will be sent to Paris in a day or two. It will be as conciliatory as the French note, although the Washington government must not commit itself in advance to a lowering of duties, but only to action in accordance with the findings of the tariff commission in each specific case of comparative production cost.

State Decision On Liquor Issue Urged by Walsh

BY SENATOR DAVID WALSH
(MASSACHUSETTS)

As interviewed by Robert Barry, (Copyright, 1927, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.) Senator David I. Walsh of Massachusetts is an avowed wet.

He declines to become fanatical about it. He refused to participate in a filibuster against the prohibition amendment and civil service bill. He was assailed by the extreme wets.

His answer was that he would not violate his oath of office by obstructing enforcement of any law. He would try to have the law changed or modified, but he would insist on adherence to the constitutional and parliamentary processes.

Senator Walsh envisages the problem of the democratic party in that precise light.

He wants the Volstead act changed. He will work for that end. He will not insist on the democratic national convention accepting his views. He may suggest a plan—an entirely new one. If the resolutions committee declines otherwise, he will not encourage schisms.

Why? "Because the responsibility of the democratic party to promote the general economic welfare against the vicious trends of the day is so overwhelming it transcends all other issues of policy," the senator said.

Seated in the foyer of a hotel in Worcester, the aggressive leader of Bay State democracy wished to talk of the economic situation of Massachusetts, of New England, of the nation, rather than of prohibition.

Not Conceding Issue. "Prohibition has no proper place as a controlling issue," he said. "Sooner or later the two major parties must get together to remove the wet and dry issue. I am a wet, but there are so many other matters of outstanding national importance pending before the American people today that I cannot and will not bring myself to any attitude of exalting or emphasizing the prohibition question to the exclusion of the very vital economic issues which affect so acutely the lives of the people."

"Do you believe the wet and dry question is one likely to split the democratic party in their national convention next year?"

"I think it is something which might cause a lot of trouble," the senator replied, "but I do not believe it will do so. The responsibility of the democratic party to the American people on other issues is too great to be ignored for a futile display of differences over prohibition. I say that as a wet, because irrespective of my views on that question I cannot permit to dominate my political philosophy in the current economic state of our people."

You believe, then, that regardless of who is the democratic nominee in 1928, whether he is wet or whether he is dry, the campaign must be waged on economic issues?

"Without a doubt," the senator declared, emphatically.

Sees Agreement. "Can the opposing factions within the party come to terms on a platform declaration?"

"They can and must. I have felt for some time that sooner or later we would have to re-submit this issue to the people. I believe we should do so in the form of a new amendment to the constitution, designed to establish beyond any reasonable doubt the legislative province of the states in which there could be no trespass by the federal legislature."

"I would favor submission of a states' rights amendment, setting forth that the states should have exclusive jurisdiction over alcoholic content of beverages manufactured or sold within their borders, over education, over public welfare measures and all such questions, which, in the final analysis, are settled test when handled by the state entities."

"Not only would that impose an essential check on the policy of federal centralization, on federal bureaucracy and federal invasion of states' rights, it would return to the states the powers they have yielded or have permitted to be usurped. It would restore to us something like the fundamenmental concept of our system of government."

"Do you believe both wets and drys could assent to such a program?"

"No one could forecast that. I do think there would be a more favorable ground for compromise than on any other method which has been suggested thus far. The drys cannot go on forever defending the existing state of affairs, and certainly they cannot combat the theory of states' rights."

Parliament Issue. "The wets must agree that if they are a minority in any state they must submit to the will of the majority of that state. If we deny the application of such a rule we strike at one of our fundamental principles."

"What issue do you urge as paramount from a democratic viewpoint?"

"Present-day economic conditions. Mr. Walsh replied. 'I am not afraid to talk about present-day conditions. In fact, I deem it the duty of every public official to find out the facts and apply what remedy may be made to make things better. I do not believe in singing psalms about prosperity when there is none.'

"One may praise the state in New England today and see countless smokestacks, and it is beyond my comprehension why people say 'hush, hush, don't talk about it. There lies the problem.' The primary responsibility of the democratic party."

"Is this a healthy condition? Is the democratic party to go on wrangling over the wet and dry issue while the republicans will ignore as usual, while we shirk our responsibility to meet this problem which is at the heart of our national economic life? I think not."

(The succeeding article will present the views of Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi.)

function to be as brief as possible, and it is hoped that Lindbergh will be able to retire for the night by 9 o'clock. Mr. Hallum, the secretary of the special committee was faced with the problem of handling the traffic that will clog the road from Atlanta to the Georgia aviation field. Orders issued by the committee that all traffic bound for Candler field proceed via Stewart avenue, which will be converted into a one-way southbound street for the day. The car carrying Colonel Lindbergh is to proceed from the field to Atlanta via Virginia avenue, and then to the hotel at the intersection of Park, East Point, Fort McPherson and West End, thence to the intersection of Whitehall and Forsyth streets, where the Lindbergh parade will form.

The 122d infantry, national guard, under command of Colonel Charles Cox, has been requested by the committee to act as a guard over Candler field during Colonel Lindbergh's stay. Chief among their duties will be to see that no harm comes to the Spirit of St. Louis during its stay in Atlanta.

Lindbergh Representative Here. Meeting with the committee Monday was Milburn Kuster, representative for Colonel Lindbergh's United States tour under auspices of the Daniel Guggenheim fund for the promotion of aeronautics. Mr. Kuster urged that every care be taken to conserve the energy of the young flier, who has already covered 60 cities in the tour flying from six hours to a day, with a total of 20,000 miles since July 20. He stressed the point that Colonel Lindbergh is making the tour solely in the interest of advancing aeronautics and that the strain of the tour necessitates much relaxation for the flier and no extra functions.

Instructions from the committee are for all automobiles that are taken out to Candler field to remain there until Lindbergh's party, which will include his family, has left the field and is on its way to Atlanta.

Blazing the way for the party will be a large and a detachment of motorcycle officers.

Route to Grant Field. After arriving at Forsyth and Whitehall streets, cordons of troops will be drawn up alongside the roadway, extending along Whitehall, Peachtree and West Peachtree streets as far as North avenue. Here the party will turn west and proceed to Grant field at Georgia Tech.

In addition to the military troops from Fort McPherson, the line of parade will be guarded by the military units from Georgia Tech, Emory university, Riverside academy, of Gainesville, Georgia Military institute, of Marietta, and Georgia Military academy, of College Park.

Accompanying Colonel Lindbergh on the tour is a detachment of commerce and the Guggenheim fund and C. C. Mendenhall, an aeronautical engine expert of the Wright Aeronautical corporation. The pilot of the department of commerce plane is Lieutenant Philip R. Love, who received his aeronautical training with Colonel Lindbergh at Brooks field and Kelly field in Texas, and later flew the air mail for the United States Express corporation on the St. Louis-Chicago routes, the same air line on which Colonel Lindbergh has his air mail experience. Lieutenant Love, incidentally, is like Colonel Lindbergh, an officer in the flying corps of the Missouri National guard. Mr. Keyhoe, who is the leader of the tour, is a graduate of the United States Naval academy.

LINDBERGH CANCELS VISIT TO NASHVILLE. Nashville, October 3.—(AP)—A touch of sadness was cast over the welcome which thousands of Memphians extended to Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh on his arrival here this afternoon by the death of Governor Austin Peay, of Tennessee.

A moment of silent prayer, while a bugler blew taps for the departed chief executive, interrupted the program at Overton park, which was marked by presentation of a silver trophy to the United States aviator. Memphis, which brought Lindbergh home from France, on behalf of the city, Captain H. E. Lackey, U. S. N., commander of the cruiser at the time, received the gift.

The first material change in the Lindbergh itinerary since the start of the Guggenheim tour came today with the announcement that Nashville would be omitted from the tour and that the flier would remain here until Wednesday morning, then flying to Chattanooga and over the cities of the Muscle Shoals district to Birmingham.

MACON INVITES LINDBERGH TO FAIR. Macon, Ga., October 3.—(AP)—Colonel Charles E. Lindbergh was extended an invitation today to visit Macon for one day during the Georgia State exposition which will be held here October 12 to 22, inclusive. A telegram was sent to Daniel Guggenheim, of New York, president of the Guggenheim Foundation, extending the invitation to Lindbergh.

The invitation was extended on behalf of the chamber of commerce, the Georgia State exposition and other local organizations.

FARMER SLAIN AND BODY BURIED

neighbor, saw him at 9 o'clock that morning. When he did not appear at home Sunday an intensive search was instituted for him, with the result that his body was found at noon today buried about 150 yards from the house, with evidences of violence appearing, which afterwards were determined as a shot in the back of the head and another in the front of the neck.

Thomas was brought into the case when he attempted to trade a small automobile for another car in McRae and was returning home. Arthur Clemons, a woods rider for F. L. Dyal, apprehended him and brought him to McRae.

Officers here, fearing mob violence, loaded Thomas into a car and took him to Eastman. On the way there this confessed to Officers Ben Williams, Matt Long and Cleve Rogers that he had killed the aged farmer, and implicated two other negroes.

It was first said that the two negroes had not been in this vicinity for at least 10 days, but late tonight it was stated that officers had obtained additional information that implicated at least one of them.

Mob Gathered. When officers left here with the negro a mob gathered and for a while it seemed that they might take him from his guards. But the officers pleaded and relatives of the slain man begged them to let the law take its course, and the guards were allowed to proceed with the prisoner.

This was before the negro had confessed the crime and the officers pleaded that they wanted to get additional information from the man. Thomas worked on an adjoining farm to his victim. Robbery is the only motive that has been established. Howell at one time was one of the richest men in this section, although he has suffered reverses lately that have greatly depleted his fortune.

Thomas said he got only a shoestring and 20 cents of Howell's body. The negro has just recently come into this country. He is about 25 years old.

Mr. Howell came to this section about 45 years ago, and from Holland, Va. He was a nephew of the late C. B. Parker, of McRae, one of the richest and most influential men of this section. Being a bachelor, he lived more or less the life of a recluse. During the last few years he lost quite a bit of his fortune in bank failures and in the failure of a naval store business in which he had a large interest.

Surviving him are two half-sisters, Miss Allie Doughty and Mrs. Susie Graham, and a nephew, two half-brothers, C. B. Doughty, of Lenox, and A. P. Doughty, of Holland, Va., and five cousins, Mrs. Max L. McRae, Mrs. E. F. McRae, of Lenox, and Griffith and A. J. Ellis, all of McRae.

Funeral services have not been announced.

40,000 KIDS GATHER AT FAIR

peanuts and popcorn balls without number were consumed, new supplies were rushed to take their place. But the voracious appetites of the invaders were irresistible. As the evening shadows were falling the vendors swung up the white flannels and surrender of the edibles was complete.

Side attacks were made in force on all the shows on the midway and soon they were crowded to the front doors with shouting and laughing kids. They lined the banks of the race track to see the horse and greyhound races. They crowded the exhibit halls and took away vast quantities of souvenirs. They captured all parts of the fair in no time and some stayed to see the last phases of the debate when the fireworks illuminated the heavens in complete surrender to the attacking hosts.

Never was such a crowd of kids seen on the midway before. Freckled-faced, tow-headed, knock-kneed kids, skinny kids and fat kids. Cross-eyed and walleyed kids; kids with big breeches and kids with tight little pants. Kids in rompers and kids in rags. Barefooted, stump-toed, dirty-faced kids. Pretty little curly-headed kids. Kids with warts on their hands, kids with stone bruises, snaggel-toothed kids, kids with the tummy ache, squawking kids, laughing kids, pushing and shoving kids, mild little retiring kids, loud-mouthed kids and whining kids. Lost kids and found kids. A great army of Atlanta kids and every one having the time of its young life.

Late returns showed the capture of 80,000 ice cream cones, 500,000 waffles, 400,000 hamburgers, 10,000 tin whistles, 6,000 walking sticks, 40,000 red balloons and miscellaneous articles aggregating 400,000.

And a great eating-drinking-ringing-sightseeing time was had by all.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping."

Not Like Medicine. Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Get the genuine, perfected by the famous Chemical Products Division of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. —(adv.)

COUNCIL OPPOSES CHANGE IN TIME

mission and to postpone action until after the hearing.

"Atlanta will profit by having eastern time," Mr. Williamson declared. "Travelers arrive here on eastern time. It is confusing, and leading business houses and financial institutions can better establish communication with centers of trade and finance. We, at least, should authorize the hearing."

"No matter what the issue is, I always will favor giving any man an opportunity to be heard," Mr. Orme said. "The talk of the working man is all bunk. I work as long and as hard as many of them. If they want to go to work at the time they do now, all they have to do is to start work an hour later. Practically all large and progressive cities in this area have eastern time."

"I favor a hearing on the proposal for the reason the proponents of the paper are entitled to be heard," Mr. Savage said. "Personally I favor going to work on central time and quitting on eastern time. If it can be arranged to apply in this manner, I feel sure that the opposition will withdraw every objection."

Want Immediate Action. Aldermen Charles M. Ford, J. Alben Conch, Robert E. Gann and Claude Ashby and Councilman Harry York led the fight to secure the request that the commission not place eastern time in vogue in Atlanta. They insisted that council take action immediately and not refer the paper to the ordinance committee for a public hearing "because council itself has no authority to fix the time for Atlanta."

"In demanding action on our paper, we are not precluding a public hearing, the commission will hold that not to do so would be a denial of the right of the people to be heard, and I can see no objection to letting the commission know our feeling in the matter."

"Council should pass this paper in the interest of the working man," Alderman Couch said in referring to the resolution to ask the commission not to place eastern time on an untried basis. "Laboring men of Atlanta oppose it. They have said so. There is no logical reason for further postponement of the matter."

Majority Should Rule. "We do not need a wet eastern time for Atlanta, and I am going to vote the matter down once and for all this afternoon," Mr. Ashley said. "We are in the central time belt because the logic and good reason of those who fixed this belt realized it was the best thing for Atlanta. There is no good reason for a change. If bankers, mercantile houses and others can not communicate with New York and other eastern markets and financial centers without going to work an hour earlier, let them revise their own working schedule without forcing 300,000 negroes to bend to their own particular desires."

Eastern time advocates aside from the fact that they have selected an inopportune time to push their proposal, have no reasonable ground on which to base their claims," Mr. York said. "When you talk of getting people up an hour earlier with winter right on us, you are meeting a snag."

George West, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; B. S. Barker, executive vice president; Raymond Kline, head of a special committee from the chamber to investigate the feasibility of inaugurating the new time for the city, and many others from that body were present in the council chamber.

Defending the proposed time change as a saving for Atlanta and a progressive step, Mr. Orme launched a hard fight to kill any expression from city council on the grounds that it would be prejudicial to the case which the commission will hold on the matter.

SHERIFF STONED BY OHIO MINERS

unexpected. Causes of the disorders were not known, although some observers thought it might have resulted from Saturday's agreement of Illinois operators to accept the Jacksonville scale temporarily or from the federal charge placed against some of their office at Steubenville. Union miners have been idle since April 1, insisting on continuance of the Jacksonville scale.

COAL NEGOTIATIONS DENIED BY LEWIS. Philadelphia, October 3.—(AP)—Reports that he had announced that negotiations were under way looking toward signing of an agreement that would end the bituminous coal strikes in Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania were denied tonight by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

Accompanied by his wife and daughter, Lewis arrived here today from Chicago, where the suspension in the Illinois soft coal field was ended Sunday.

"I have not authorized any statement regarding the settlement of the strike in Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania," said the miners' chief, "and am at a loss to understand where such a report originated."

11 MINERS HELD IN PICKET BASE. Steubenville, Ohio, October 3.—(AP)—W. T. Roberts, secretary sub-district No. 5, United Mine Workers of America; Adolpho Pacifico, vice president; Ettore del Guzzo, international organizer of the union, and eight miners were given a hearing here today charged with violation of the federal court injunction restraining them from interfering with operation of non-union mines.

Bonds of $750, for Roberts, Pacifico and del Guzzo, which the men had given late this afternoon were cancelled tonight when they voluntarily returned to the deputy marshal and asked they be placed in jail. With them also were eight other miners who had given bonds of $500 each.

The men declared they were being harassed and intended to stay in jail until their case is heard by Federal Judge Hanson W. Hough, who issued the injunction. It was indicated at the hearing before the United States commissioner that the case would not come up for hearing until the December term of court.

The men declared tonight they intended to stay in jail as a protest against what they termed "persecution."

Deputy marshals declared they would continue arresting pickets who violate terms of the federal injunction.

conscious and his condition is regarded as extremely grave. C. M. Griffin, operating the street car, stated that Robertson's wagon turned into Forsyth street too suddenly to be avoided.

Details of the accident which resulted in the death of Fryer were not learned, the person bringing him to the hospital left immediately afterward without describing the mishap.

Funeral services for Mr. Anderson will be held at 1 o'clock this afternoon from the Orchard Knob Baptist church. The Rev. C. C. Buckalew will officiate and interment will be in Crest Lawn cemetery.

Three men, one an Atlanta policeman, narrowly escaped death Sunday when the automobile in which they were riding, overturned on an embankment on Dallas road as a fire blew out. George Leavelle, of Marietta, Ga., who was driving the car, was seriously injured, while T. C. Watkins, Atlanta policeman, and James Watkins, were slightly bruised.

LOWDEN MAY QUIT PRESIDENCY RACE

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, October 3.—(United News.)—Discouraged and feeling that he is being made a stalking horse, Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, is anxious to drop his campaign for the republican presidential nomination, according to word reaching here. Lowden himself has not confirmed this. This information is that Lowden is said to be disappointed at the progress of his campaign and foresees difficulty even in getting a solid Illinois delegation due to the rival activities of Big Bill Thompson, mayor of Chicago, who has a working agreement with Len Small's state machine to beat Lowden. It is also stated that Lowden feels he is being made a pawn by friends of Vice President Dawes.

All Mysterious.
It was all very mysterious. Butler took breakfast with Coolidge and then went to his suite at the Willard hotel where one by one visiting national committee members accompanied by large entourages filed in and later emerged looking very mysterious as to their custom, even when discussing the weather.

Rumors were around that Butler is sounding out the committee as to the possibility of nominating Coolidge. Butler himself denied that candidates or convention cities are being considered. $8 far as could be learned there is a general sounding out process going on with no intention of anything crystallizing at once.

San Francisco has not been eliminated as a possible convention city for the prospective candidacy of Hoover. It was learned. It was certain to get the convention before Coolidge's announcement. Now, however, other candidates do not want the convention to go into Hoover's territory, other cities are suggested; Minneapolis, Kan.

No more, no less... but Quaker Oats has the flavor

THE difference in breakfast oats is in their flavor. The price mostly is the same.

Millions demand the Quaker brand because of its tasty, wonderful flavor. For flavor is the important point in food.

Some 50 years were spent perfecting that famous Quaker flavor. Once you taste it, you are spoiled for ordinary oats.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed. Protein, carbohydrates and vitamins and "bulk" are thus combined to make Quaker Oats an excellently balanced ration.

Get Quick Quaker (cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes) or Quaker Oats today at your grocer. See how much finer tomorrow's breakfast will be than today's.

choice Rumors.
As to candidates a choice variety of rumors is in circulation, non guaranteed.

One is that Hughes and Dawes are the favored candidates of eastern business and that Hughes is preferred.

Another is that Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, long political enemies, have made a deal whereby Hoover is to help Johnson's boulder dam bill in return for which Johnson is to throw his influence toward having a solid Hoover delegation from California, this rumor emanates from Representative Madison Chicago republicans, who told President Coolidge today he would fight the boulder dam bill.

Some friends of boulder dam see in this a return to the status quo in Chicago, and other private power interests wishing to kill the Swing-Johnson boulder dam power plan.

Another rumor is that friends of Dawes are trying to prevent Lowden from dropping out of the race because they think it will be better for the vice president if Lowden carries the bulk of the open fight up to the convention. Then when he is killed off in a deadlock his strength would go to Dawes.

Had His Troubles.
Lowden has had more than his share of the discouragements that fall to public men. In 1920 he was headed straight for the nomination when a senate investigation disclosed that two Missouri henchmen received money from a Lowden lieutenant in return for their support at the approaching convention. That was used to kill him off from almost certain nomination although he probably knew nothing of the circumstances until they were exposed by the senate investigators.

In 1924 he was nominated for vice president but refused to accept, still feeling as he did when he refused twice to enter Harding's cabinet, that it must be the presidency or nothing.

This year he made an early start for delegates though he has not formally announced his candidacy. He has opened eastern headquarters and a national organization has been in process of formation. But the Lowden movement, while strong in some farm areas, has been weak elsewhere and most observers see little hope for him. When he is mentioned it is always with the suggestion that after early halting his strength will go to Dawes.

This will probably be Lowden's last gamble for the highest honor that politics has to grant, for in another four years he will be too old.

on the stage today, was given in front of the grandstand on the race track. There were fourteen in number and many fair patrons stated that they were in the best of their kind ever seen here.

Murdoch MacDonald's Scotch Highlanders band furnished music during the circuit acts in the afternoon and again during the revue shortly after 7 o'clock at night. The Ethel Robinson's revue was the high light of the night amusement program.

A fitting climax to the day's activities was enacted shortly after dark, when more than $1,000 worth of pyrotechnics burst forth over the lake. Many thousands of persons lined the banks on the side of the race track and watched with interest the display of fireworks.

NORTHERN CHINESE LOSE IN BATTLE

Pekin, October 3.—(AP)—Forces of Marshal Chang Tso-lin, Manchurian war lord and head of the northern alliance, have been driven back 20 miles by Shanxi province troops.

The northerners have rushed up reinforcements, but the latest reports, though vague because of the censorship, state that the northerners have evacuated Kulgan, are withdrawing to the Nan-kow pass, about 30 miles north of Peking.

In the meantime, the northern forces stationed at Fengchen, outside of the great wall of China in northern Shanxi, have made a fairly stiff fight against the Shanxi troops. It seems to be a foregone conclusion here, however, that their surrender is inevitable.

Soliciting Funds For Smith Clubs Not Authorized

Albany, N. Y., October 3.—(AP)—Solicitation of funds for promoting the presidential boom of Governor Alfred E. Smith are unauthorized by him, the executive announced today.

The formation of clubs charging membership fee first came to the governor's attention in the form of letters from admirers saying they had joined "Al Smith club" and had paid their initiation fees.

The governor tried to head off what he considered well-intentioned but ill-advised moves by these clubs through writing the heads or organizers of the bodies. This not having the desired end, he made the following announcement:

"My attention has been called to letters and requests for funds made by individuals who purport to be carrying on organization efforts in my behalf. Solicitation of funds in my behalf is entirely unauthorized."

He have taken occasion to write several individuals who have been carrying on such efforts and asked them to desist. "I do not assume to dictate the efforts or opinions of people in various sections of the country, but I do wish it known that the collection of money for purposes of that nature is not authorized by me."

POULTRY EXHIBIT AT FAIR INDICATES SOUTH'S PROGRESS

One of the south's greatest developments of recent years is shown in the mammoth poultry show at the Southeastern fair, now in progress at Lakewood. Fair officials stated Monday night that more than 750 entries of chickens and 900 entries of pigeons have been turned back because of lack of room.

For the past few years the poultry show has been constantly growing and during the summer preparations were made to move the exhibit into two sections of the spacious cuttle barn on the right of the main automobile entrance on South Pryor street.

The new location was quickly filled with more than 1,500 of the best in the southern states and the present poultry show is regarded as the best ever held in the southern states.

Practically all of the southeastern and central southern states are represented, with the largest representation from Tennessee and Georgia.

John P. Frasch, Jr., R. F. D. No. 1, Atlanta, and a veteran in the poultry business, is superintendent of the department. Judging in the poultry show will start this morning at 9 o'clock and continue through the remainder of the week.

CHILDREN JAM FAIR GROUNDS

extraneous, desperado, nucleus, mellifluous, ingenious, habilitant and apostasy.

The weather, a bit uncertain during the early hours, turned out to be ideal and after the clouds disappeared, shortly before the noon hour, thousands of persons began pouring into the park.

Mayor J. N. Bagdasarian, Monday afternoon, officially declared Wednesday as the day for all Atlantans to visit the fair grounds. The city hall will be closed at noon in order that all the employees may have an opportunity to visit the Southeastern fair.

Wednesday Features.
Wednesday also has been designated as Gurnsey and Farmers day and all the Gurnsey cattle will be judged and prizes in that department will be awarded.

Special attention today will be given to the poultry department. A banquet for poultry owners will be held tonight, it was announced.

Every school within a radius of 75 miles of Atlanta was closed for the day Monday in order that the students and school teachers might visit the array of exhibits.

Shortly after the gates opened, a continuous line of youngsters began swarming on the midway and long before the opening of the rides a long line of customers waited. The continuous stream of "kiddies" kept working at the park going at top speed all day long and into the night.

One of the big features of the school day was the state-wide spelling bee, which was held at 1 o'clock near the main office in the grove. Thirty-six states lined up the list of words to be spelled, and the contest was won by a Georgia champion speller.

Richard Clark, a Boys' High school student, representing Fulton county, placed second, when he failed to spell apostrophe, giving first place to Ransom.

Miss Virginia McLaughlin, of Greenville, Ga., in Meriwether county won third place. Eight other winners were given prizes.

Grand circuit and greyhound racing were the feature sporting events of the afternoon. The grand circuit events were held at 2 o'clock, followed by the dog racing later in the afternoon.

Shortly after the racing program was completed, the Jimmy Dutton all-star circus, with some of the best acts

No more, no less... but Quaker Oats has the flavor

THE difference in breakfast oats is in their flavor. The price mostly is the same.

Millions demand the Quaker brand because of its tasty, wonderful flavor. For flavor is the important point in food.

Some 50 years were spent perfecting that famous Quaker flavor. Once you taste it, you are spoiled for ordinary oats.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed. Protein, carbohydrates and vitamins and "bulk" are thus combined to make Quaker Oats an excellently balanced ration.

STATE SECURITIES HEADS
OPEN MEETING TODAY

Investment trusts will be given much attention during the meeting of the National Association of Securities commissioners, which opens at the Henry Grady hotel today. The subject will be introduced by Thomas B. Conner, former administrative officer of the Georgia Securities commission, now connected with a New York financial firm.

"The investment trust," Mr. Conner stated Monday, "has recently gained such vogue as to cause law-enforcing officials some concern because of the variety of propositions submitted to them. There is nothing new in the principle of the investment trust. It merely seeks to gain safety through diversification of the investment by doing for the small investor what the savings banks, insurance companies and other institutions have already been doing for themselves for a long time."

Atlanta investment bankers will be holding the victim commissioners during the meeting. A dinner given by the local men at the Capital City club tonight will be a social feature of the gathering.

THE CONSTITUTION EXPRESS

Boys

Girls

It's Easy

ONLY 3 NEW { Daily and Sunday } SUBSCRIPTIONS NEEDED

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION makes it possible for thousands of boys and girls in Georgia, and especially the city of Atlanta and suburbs, to possess the "Constitution Express."

This smooth-running, balloon-tired COASTER WAGON wins its way into the heart of every child that sees it. It's the dandiest COASTER WAGON ever given away by any newspaper. It has a large-sized hardwood body (16x36 inches) finished with glistening varnish and brilliant paint. Heavy steel bolsters front and rear are extra braced. Silent running roller bearings and extra heavy single disc wheels make this the fastest and hand-somest COASTER WAGON that you have ever seen. Tires are solid rubber and are of the full one-inch balloon type.

Strong—Swift—Silent

You cannot surpass this handsome "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" wagon for strength and durability. No old-fashioned wood bolsters to split and crack — The "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" has bolsters of heavy steel. Wheels have roller bearings, just like the big automobiles, and the full one-inch balloon-type tires make the coaster whiz by almost without a sound.

Read These Instructions:

New subscriptions must be from persons not at present subscribers to the Daily and Sunday Constitution, nor have been for the last thirty days, and must not, directly or indirectly, take the place of someone who is now or has been a recent subscriber.

Such new subscriptions will be acceptable in Atlanta and in any town where The Constitution has a carrier delivery service, provided the new subscriptions are acceptable to the carrier.

HOW TO EARN ONE

If you want one of these beautiful "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" wagons, the first thing to do is to clip out the coupon at the left, bring or mail it to The Constitution for a Contest Book. When you get the book, if "Dad" isn't a subscriber to the Daily and Sunday Constitution, get his subscription first and then you will need two more.

THREE DAILY AND SUNDAY NEW SIX-MONTHS' SUBSCRIPTIONS.

That's all! Just three new Daily and Sunday six-months' subscriptions are required to earn one of these beautifully finished "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS" wagons. You are not to collect any money.

IT'S EASY WORK!

It will take you only a short time to get three new subscribers to The Constitution, because everyone knows that The Atlanta Constitution is Atlanta's outstanding newspaper. Besides helping you earn your "CONSTITUTION EXPRESS," the people who sign the agreement or contract for you are receiving the news of the world, interesting reading articles and features for every member of the family for six months.

Start out right now! It's more like fun than work. Get a contract book, secure from good, reliable, financially responsible subscribers, "signature of each," bring or send it to The Constitution office. After the subscriptions are verified and found "O. K.," the wagon is yours.

Read These Instructions Carefully:

Out-of-town workers must turn their coupon book of subscriptions, after it has been filled out with the required number of subscriptions, each signed by the subscriber himself, over to the local Constitution dealer for his acceptance of the new subscriptions.

Newsdealer will indicate his acceptance by writing on the back of the subscription agreement "O. K., accepted by me," and sign his name. Then the book with required number of accepted subscriptions to be sent to The Constitution.

COASTER WAGONS will be shipped by express (collect) to out-of-town workers. Those who live in Atlanta and suburban towns will get the wagons at The Constitution office.

Miss Hale To Wed Fred L. Sale In New York City, October 12

Enlisting the cordial and sincere interest of a host of friends throughout the state is the announcement of the wedding plans of Miss Dorothy Eleanor Hale, lovely young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Porter Hale, and Fred Link Sale, of Portland, Maine. The marriage will be quietly solemnized at high noon Wednesday, October 12, at the Church of the Transfiguration in New York city, the ceremony to be witnessed by a small group of relatives and intimate friends. The Rev. Dr. Ray, rector of the church, will read the marriage service.

Mrs. W. R. Hale, of New York, sister of the charming bride-elect, will act as her maid of honor and only attendant.

Mr. Sale will have as his best man W. R. Hale, of New York, brother of the bride-to-be.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. Sale and his bride will leave by boat for Boston, Mass., and later they will motor through the New England states, visiting points of interest.

They will make their home in Portland, Maine, where the groom-elect holds a responsible position with the Coca-Cola company.

A series of interesting pre-nuptial parties have been planned in compliance to Miss Hale prior to her departure for New York Sunday, October 9. Mrs. J. Philip Holmes will be hostess at a bridge-tennis party in her honor Tuesday afternoon at her home on Waverly way.

Mrs. Charles Sullivan's bridge-tennis, which will be a lovely event of Wednesday, given at her home on Springdale road, will be another compliment to Miss Hale.

Mrs. Cecil Sale will entertain at luncheon Thursday at her home on Country club, inviting a small group of friends to meet Miss Hale.

Hemphill P.-T. A.

Elects Officers.

The Hemphill school P.-T. A. met Friday afternoon in the auditorium of the new school building with a large attendance of mothers. Mrs. C. J. Thompson, president, presided. Mrs. Marchman, secretary, reported a piano purchased during the summer by the P.-T. A. for the school.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. B. C. Marchman; vice president, Mrs. Hixon, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Virgil Moon. The principal, Mrs. Fred Schultz, paid a splendid tribute to Mrs. Thompson, retiring president, for her untiring efforts and efficient work for the P.-T. A. during the past two years.

After the election of officers, Mrs. Thompson introduced Dr. W. H. Faust, pastor of Gordon Street Baptist church, who gave a splendid talk on cooperation.

The meeting will meet again Friday, October 28.

Third Ward Voters

Meet Next Wednesday.

The Third Ward of the Atlanta League of Women Voters meets at league headquarters, 356 Candler annex, Wednesday, October 5, at 3 o'clock.

The election of ward officers for 1928 will be held, followed by the nomination of a president and six directors for the Atlanta league. Miss Katherine Koch, chairman of the Atlanta league's ward officers' council, presides over the meeting.

Mrs. J. B. Morgan, former chairman of the ward, opens the program with a narration on "Listening In on a Session of City Council." A round-table will be conducted by Mrs. M. S. Moser, Mrs. S. A. Miller and Mrs. S. E. Baker on "Third Ward Politics." Miss Elizabeth Sawtell will speak on "Getting Educated."

Tea with the ninth and twelfth wards, also meeting at headquarters at that hour, follows the meeting. Mrs. W. F. Trenary, chairman of hospitality, with her committee, will assist in entertaining.

Mrs. Hinman Talks On Art Essay At High Museum

The Associated Dealers in American

Paintings, New York, are sponsoring an exhibition of the works of American masters in art at the High Museum of Art, during October, under the auspices of the Atlanta Art museum, and are offering three prizes for the best essays on "What One Work of Art Among All Those Assembled in This Exhibition Makes the Greatest Appeal to You and Why?"

Mrs. George B. Hinman and Mrs. Charles Goodman, chairman of the committees for this contest, are very interested and are engaged in furthering the work connected with the exhibition. "I fear," said Mrs. Hinman, as she sat in her workroom in front of her typewriter, "that this machine will go on a strike. It is certainly working overtime. Mrs. Goodman and I are just waking up to the fact that this is a real job and not a mere pastime. You see, this contest is a big thing, the first of its kind offered by the High Museum of Art and it is up to us and our committee to make it a success. The essays offered for prizes are so perfectly beautiful that the public has only to see them to be inspired to get busy on the work connected with the exhibition. Some of the essays are really something truly worth while."

"This contest for articles only is one that we understand the technical side of art," Mrs. Hinman was asked.

"No, indeed," she answered. "We have no use at all for the technical side of art. We want to know what the people honestly think and feel and not what they think they ought to think and feel. We want to know their favorite work of art, and in them as they stand before it; what it means to them. Both exhibitors and artists are realizing that art is just like any other commodity in one respect, that of supply and demand. Both are anxious to know the trend of American taste in art. The subject assigned for the essays shows this."

"The teamwork being done by our committees is all that could possibly be asked. We expect to have a museum much of the time to give all the help possible to those wishing to win the contest. Copies of the rules and regulations governing the contest are posted in the High Museum of Art, the schools and the public library. In addition to those we have posted in the High Museum, we have also posted in the schools and the public library. SYNOPSIS

On the way to Donald Brierly's house for luncheon Connie Elmore, Donald's fiancée, from the estate of old Harrowby, a friend of Donald's father.

Olive and Connie share a flat in London. Olive is secretly in love with Donald, but sincerely pleased at Connie's good fortune in winning him.

Randle and Quirk, solicitors handling the Harrowby estate, are crooked and plot to cheat Donald Brierly of the fortune by having a spurious heir appear whose claim is prior to Donald's. In the midst of the plotting Augustus Brierly, Donald's father, pre-arranged to have died when the Titanic sank, calls on Randle. Quirk suggests to Randle that he invite Brierly to Harrowby house and there with the assistance of Quirk's clerk, Wade, dispose of Brierly.

Connie decides to visit her old nurse, who is now caretaker of Harrowby house. Mrs. Jones is out, but Connie finds the key and lets herself in to wait for her. She hears strange noises in the library and goes to investigate. She sees Randle and another man kill Mr. Brierly, whom she recognizes from his portrait. Rushing out of the house Connie stumbles into Quirk. While telling her story Quirk pushes the bell and sends a signal to the murderers. Connie sees a policeman and calling him the three proceed to the library, and Connie asks Quirk to open the secret panel in the wall where she had seen the man place the body. It is empty. Quirk intimates that she imagined the scene, and in exasperation Connie goes to see Olive, who believes her story.

Quirk requests Randle to come to superintendent's office and he presents his alibi which the police officer accepts. The lawyers then go to Wade's office, where old man Turle and his son, the spurious heirs, await them. The old man dies just after they walk into the office, and Randle and Quirk leave by the back door.

The next morning Connie calls on Quirk and meets young Jones in his office. She recognizes him as her old nurse's son, but does not know that he has been posing as Henry Turle, Jr. Quirk later pretends that Connie imagined she saw young Jones. He tells Olive that Randle is about to bring criminal suit against Connie unless Olive, as her nearest friend, has her committed to a private institution which he recommends. Donald kills Connie and while he is away from home a body is found buried in his garden. When Olive hears the news she takes a car and drives toward Manton to meet him.

INSTALLMENT XLIV.
MAD EXCITEMENT.

The one remaining point of anxiety to Donald was as to how far Sir Theodore Jelks would be influenced by those adverse reports on Connie—how far the reports were in themselves significant. Anyway, Connie would be certain to improve in time.

A hundred yards ahead of him a light car swerved across the road. Donald blew his horn and slowed.

"Fancy trying to turn like that!" He blew the horn vigorously. He was within 20 yards of the car. The woman driver waved to him, then backed right across his path.

"Hullo, Olive!" he exclaimed in astonishment. "I thought it was some amateur trying to commit suicide. I saw! This is a bit of a surprise. What—"

An oncoming car hooped. He saw her glance at it almost fearfully, then back her car again into its correct position.

"Don't this is a main road. We can't talk. Follow me, will you?" "What's up?" Have you had a 'phone from Connie?"

"No. Nothing to do with Connie. Just follow me and don't ask question."

"Well, I'm—You might—"

"Follow me, Don," she said, and there was that in her voice which made him turn and follow her as she shot ahead in the direction of Kinner.

"Wonder what's up! Good lord, what on earth's the matter with her car?"

With his own headlights, as he kept a dozen paces behind Olive's Ford, he could see enough of the car to cause him wonder.

The first thing to strike him was that there was only one mudguard intact. The two on the near side were missing, but there was enough left of them to show that they had been wrenched away. On the far side the front mudguard was crumpled up. One of the headlights was askew.

"She's been going it," he thought. "Perhaps some blackguard has run into her and we're tracking him down. By jove—the windscreen is smashed too!"

Nevertheless, the car was making a good 40 miles an hour and in a minute or two, he knew, they would be running into Kinner.

But before reaching Kinner, Olive held up her hand and the Ford turned into a side road. He followed for perhaps a quarter of a mile, then she held up her hand again and stopped just beyond the crossing of a lane.

He himself drove up beside her. "I say, old girl, you have been painting the town red," he began, when she cut him off.

"Run the bike a little way up that lane and leave it in the ditch," she ordered.

He looked at her in alarm. "My dear girl, what is the matter? Are you ill?"

Olive's face was gray with dust, her eyes sunken, her short hair—she seemed to have lost her hat—tumbled and tangled by the wind. Her hands shook on the wheel. She looked over her shoulder and beckoned to him to come closer. As he bent over her she raced the engine so that the din should drown her voice from any casual rustic listening in a field.

"They've found the body of old Turle in your garden—and they're are you ill?"

"Kiddies Dreamland" Big Hit

AL SHORT, VIRGINIA SEMON PRAISED
On Good Program at Howard

BY ELMO HAMBY.
Atlanta, famed theatrically as the "coldest town in the world" to the almost absolute lack of enthusiasm manifested over the average run of theatricals, received a jolt—or at least that portion of Atlanta which is in the Howard theater Monday did—when "Kiddies Dreamland" was presented. If ever that theatrical heaven occurred.

"Kiddies Dreamland" is a wow! This juvenile stage show, which is sponsored by The Constitution and which opened Monday at the Howard what promises to be one of the most sensational week's runs ever recorded in the annals of local theaterdom. Uniqueness, originality, pep, real talent and beauty are but a few of the characteristics of this production.

"Kiddies Dreamland" sets to a higher notch the accomplishments of Al Short, prince of all musicians, who wins a brand new set and laurels as a producer, and it reflects to the very great credit of Miss Virginia Semon, local dance instructor, who trained the children to a degree of perfection that makes the show fully qualified to stand as a success on any stage in the country.

Offhand, one might expect a juvenile revue composed of local talent, to be only a bunch of cute kiddies who know a few tricks, and whose composite performance is successful because of their youth and their "cuteness."

But just at this point is where Mr. Short and the talented Miss Semon began to work. With this much, usually the zenith of the kiddie-in-kid shows, Mr. Short wrote a very complete stage presentation, decorated it with colorful scenery and nice costumes, and scored it with special music, and Miss Semon took over the kiddies and fitted them into the production.

A Complete Show.
"Kiddies Dreamland" is a very complete variety show. There is a Russian dancer, jazz singers, adagio dancers, tap-dancers, a saxophonist, a violinist, a pianist, a comedian, and other entertainers—all and this is presented in big-time fashion by kiddies ranging in age from 3 years to 10 years.

It would be impossible to be the star of the show. There is a point in applause when it reaches a thunderous din, making it difficult to determine just which of any two given outbursts are heavier. And it is assuredly not an exaggeration to characterize the applause Monday in such a manner.

There is one girl, Dorothy Johnson, who must be about like Sam—like a nobody can. Another kiddie in such a manner.

Out-of-Town Shots Lead in Big Shoot

Atlantans Hard Pushed for Honors in Three-Day Indian Shoot Under Way at Atlanta Gun Club.

BY WHITNER CARY.
The Indians, who once were the leading real estate holders in this section and five of whose tribes gave the name to the three-day gun shoot which started Monday at the Atlanta Gun Club, were undoubtedly good marksmen in their day. But it is highly probable that if the esteemed Red Men of that bygone era could have been transplanted from the happy hunting grounds of Valhalla to compete with the 52 pale faces whose guns blazed away in the 200 class championships and 25 pair of practice doubles inaugurating the shoot Monday they would have gone back to their wigwams and hid their heads in shame. For those pale faces who were gathered from far and distant lands certainly did some neat work at the traps. The honors for the day in the various events went to the four corners of the compass, which, in a shoot of this kind, with representatives here from many far distant sections, is not surprising.

To A. M. Perkins, of Baton Rouge, with a sensational score of 197 out of a possible 200, goes the top honor in class A. J. L. Chipley, of Greenwood, S. C., and J. A. Kries, of Knoxville, stand tied for class B honors with a mark of 192. C. A. Chandler, with the imposing figure of 190, towers over the class C brigade, while Imma Gray, with a well-earned 186, keeps Atlanta in the lead by capturing first place in the class D event. The Gate City was also upheld in splendid fashion in the 25 pair of practice doubles which was won by Dr. J. C. Wright when he broke 47 out of 50.

The doubt is attended by many viceroying marksmen. As these victors showed clearly on Monday what brand of sighting they can do it is going to be an exceptionally brilliant work on the part of the home towners. Some of the many handsome trophies that are offered in the main championship events, which take place Tuesday and Wednesday.

Chief among these hold invaders besides the Baton Rouge club huster was the first honor in the class A event might be the picture of a bird of Cincinnati. This crack shot was but one bird behind Perkins and gave up the exhibition of marksmanship that puts him in the home town of powder burners in this section.

The local tribe is offering plenty of contention. Hal McKenzie led the Atlanta Braves, his 165 being two birds away from the top score in class A. As mentioned before, Dr. J. C. Wright, of this city, led the field in the 25 pair of practice doubles. The program for Tuesday calls for the international hundred, the 200 singles and 25 pair of championship doubles. Wednesday will see the completion of the shoot with 100 single 100 handicap and 25 pair of championship doubles.

The scores in Monday's events follow:

World Series To Be Battle of Bats Instead of Pitchers

Rain Gives Little Chance For Workouts

Experts Believe Yankee and Pirate Pitching Staff Both To Be Weak.

BY FRANK GETTY.
(United News Sports Editor.)
Pittsburgh, October 3.—World series scenes of 1927 opened today behind just such a veil of muck and gloom and rain as closed down two years ago upon the dramatic finish of Pittsburgh's last triumphal participation in a post-season championship.

It seemed as though the same bleak drizzle which drenched Forbes field that memorable October day in 1925, when Pirate bats and base hits broke the heart of gallant old Walter Johnson and had resumed its dismal functions precisely where it left off.

Here was a brand new world series, 1927 edition, climax of one of the most one-sided of American league pennant races and one of the closest of National league flag campaigns, trying its best to get out into the playing field for a bit of preliminary warming up and batting and fielding practice—and the most inhospitable sort of Pittsburgh weather keeping it confined indoors.

As for the New York Yankees, who bristled into town hopeful of an opportunity to familiarize themselves with Forbes field before the opening game on Wednesday, they said even unkindly things about the elements than anyone.

Short Yankee Practice.
A brief quarter of an hour was all that the rain permitted the American league champions for batting practice. A steady downpour drove them to the shelter of their dug-out, and eventually from the park.

A hustling crew in dungarees came running with the big canvas covers for the playing field, and baseball was over for the day.

The final contingent of Pittsburgh Pirates, who had remained behind the regulars to finish out the National league season in Cincinnati after the pennant was won, also arrived in town.

Unlike the Yankees, the Pirates welcomed the day of rest. The National league champions complained that they were bruised and sore from hard battles in the stirring drive in which they finished the season.

Rough tactics on the part of opposing clubs seeking to keep them from winning the pennant during the last days of September were charged by the Corsairs.

Bush Picks Kremer.
In the shelter of the Pittsburgh clubhouse, Donie Bush, the club's little manager who drove an off-times seemingly reluctant ball club to the top in the toughest National league race of many years, indicated that his choice for opening pitcher in the series was Remy Kremer, stalwart 200-pound right hander.

There has been talk among Yankee admirers of how the American leaguers will murder Kremer's blinding speed, of how Babe Ruth and his fellow sluggers will find exactly to their liking the fast ball which made Remy the most effective of National league pitchers this season.

Yankee rooters point to the hammering the big right-hander received in Cincinnati last Saturday, and declare Kremer "made to order" for "murder" on Wednesday.

But Donie Bush is a manager with the courage of his convictions. His handling of the extraordinary case of "Kiki" Cuyler amply proves that. And so when Bush says he will start Kremer, it is a moral certainty that he will be Remy who will be on the mound Wednesday, facing Earl Combs, the Yankee lead-off man, in the first half of the first inning of the first game of the 1927 world series.

During the brief batting practice which the Yanks sandwiched in between showers, it was noted that Miller Huggins had Waite Hoyt on the hill, serving them up to the New York hitters, and while Miller was most non-committal it was considered certain that the blonde young right-hander would oppose the Pirates in the opening game.

Both Clubs' Pitchers Weak.
One outstanding fact about this forthcoming series is that both clubs are considered comparatively weak in the box.

Neither the Pirates nor the Yankees look forward with any appreciable degree of confidence towards any extraordinary pitching performances on their behalf.

Each club anticipates having to hit and hit often—to win.

Critics of the Yankees declare that Hoyt and Waite Moore are Huggins' best bets against this sharp-hitting, speedy Pittsburgh club. There is a possibility that Moore, still in his first year as a Yankee regular, will be called from the relief role he filled so ably all season and sent out to start a game.

Someone Ought To Tell Him How To Gain Pounds of Solid Flesh And Look Like a Real Man

Tens of thousands of thin, run-down men—yes, and women too—are getting discouraged—they are giving up all hope of ever being able to take on flesh and look healthy and strong.

All such people can stop worrying and start to smile and enjoy life right now, for McCoy's Tablets, which any druggist will tell you all about, is putting flesh on hosts of skinny folks every day.

One woman, tired, weak and discouraged, put on 25 pounds in five weeks and now feels fine.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking a sixty-cent box of McCoy's Tablets or 2 One Dollar boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least 5 pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health—your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price.

The name McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets has been shortened just ask for McCoy's Tablets at Jacobs' Drug Stores or any drug store in America. (adv.)

Babe Astonished At Waners' Size

Pittsburgh, October 3.—(AP) Babe Ruth, a distinguished visitor to Pittsburgh for the world series, had two interesting callers today. Paul and Lloyd Waner, star outfielders of the Pirates, sent up their cards to the Big Bam at the hotel where the Yankees are making their headquarters.

The Waner brothers, who are much smaller than their baseball performances would suggest, seemed even more diminutive when they looked up to greet the huge Ruth.

The picture struck the home-run hitter at once. "Why, they're just kids," he said as he blinked his amazement. "If I was that little I'd be afraid of getting hurt."

Buc, Yankee Outfields About Even

Babe Ruth, of Yankees, and Paul Waner, of Pirates, Two Best.

Pittsburgh, October 3.—(AP)—Two of the greatest as well as the most colorful outfield trios in baseball will roam the outfield precincts for the Yankees and Pirates in the world's series.

The Yankees have the incomparable Babe Ruth, just finished earning his $70,000 salary by shattering his own home-run record, but the Pirates have the famous Waner brothers, hitters and ballhawks extraordinary.

Paul Waner, in his second year as a big leaguer, is the National league's leading batsman with an unofficial mark of 379, the leader in hits, triples and runs driven in. Lloyd, only "2" and in his first year under the big tent, has made a rare mark for a beginner, leading the league in runs scored, breaking the modern record for one-base hits and establishing himself as the fastest man in the league down the first-base line.

Taking the two outfields as a whole, the Pirates trio, on the records, has a decided defensive edge, whereas the Yankee combination, chiefly due to Ruth, packs a much heavier long-distance punch.

There is basis for a merry argument over the rival rightfielders, Paul Waner and Ruth. Paul has a 23 point edge on the Babe in straight hitting. He also has a bigger collection of doubles and triples to help the Babe's home-run supremacy.

There is another margin in Paul's favor in fielding, where he has nearly 100 more putouts and 15 more assists than the big Babe. But the Yankees' constant threat at bat and the prospect of his breaking up the home-run supremacy cannot be measured in figures. There is only one Ruth, all observers agree. This is the Babe's eighth-world series.

Earl Combs, the Kentucky colt, and Lloyd Waner, rival lead-off men as well as center fielders, are a close match. Combs has a few points up at bat but Lloyd has a better fielding mark. Both are exceptionally fast, not only in covering their territory but on the bases. Combs is less spectacular than "Sprouts" as the players call him, but he is steady and consistent of the type of George Burns, old Giant outfielder.

Were Kiki Cuyler in the other outfield spot for the Pirates, playing up to the second name, the Yankees would be even stronger on the ramparts, but Kiki seems doomed to stay on the bench. Clyde Barnhart, holding down left field for the Bucs, is a reliable batter and fielder out not quite up to Bob Meusel, the strong armed, slugging Yankee guardian of left, in the opinion of observers. Lanky Bob is much faster and has a rifle arm that is a constant threat to base runners.

ers, may fulfill the fond hopes of New York supporters by proving ineffective against the slugging of Ruth, Gehrig, Kootie, Lazzer Dreyfus, president of the club, estimated today.

Dreyfus revealed that up to Saturday his office had returned unopened 22,000 letters presumably containing applications for seats.

"We had to disappoint three out of every five persons who wanted tickets," he said.

Dreyfus added later that applications still were pouring in and that the limited capacity of the field seats only some 41,000 area with erection of temporary bleachers—meant at least a loss of $500,000.

All Tickets Gone For World's Series

Pittsburgh, October 3.—(United News.)—The Pittsburgh Pirates could have sold more reserved seat tickets to the value of half million dollars had the capacity of Forbes field been larger, Barney Dreyfus, president of the club, estimated today.

Dreyfus revealed that up to Saturday his office had returned unopened 22,000 letters presumably containing applications for seats.

Tech Starts Preparing For Tulane

Scrimmage With Freshmen On Books For Varsity This Afternoon.

BY BEN COTHMAN.
Storm signals were flying Monday afternoon at Grant field. With the coming Saturday afternoon of Tulane's Green Wave for the second football battle of the season the signals were necessary. There's much to be done before the varsity can be ready to meet the Greenies.

These Greenies will be hard to lick. They are tricky and usually have a good set of plays to flash on an opponent. Those plays will probably be brought to the attention of the varsity on Wednesday afternoon when Hank Bjorkman's Red Devils trot for a scrimmage Monday afternoon. The Devils were all to themselves, learning the Greenies' plays from Hank. This afternoon they will be taught some of the while the varsity's attention is being engaged by the frosh.

In Saturday's opener with V. M. I., many number of glaring mistakes cropped up. Monday afternoon, however, all gone over. Not verbally, but actually. Alex demonstrated said mistakes and then corrected them in a number of plays. The result was a demonstration that a much better Tech team will go on the field next Saturday afternoon.

Punting Stressed.
A major portion of Monday's practice period was devoted to going down under punts. Parham, Mizell and Oltz were doing the booting. Parham's were some better than Saturday. Alex, at first, had a set of linemen rushing the booters in an attempt to block their kicks. Mizell had one blocked on him. That was all. Parham and two blocked on him Saturday, you'll remember. There were plenty of chances for one of his boots to be blocked Monday, but none of them were.

The sophomores who applied the sophomore to V. M. I. on the 50-yard touchdown march Saturday, were all out and none the worse for wear. Outside of a few of those aggravating "charley horses," there were no injuries of any kind, which speaks well for the condition of the squad.

Bill Fincher had a big time Monday. He took all of linemen up to one goal line and lined them up across the field. Bill placed himself on the 15-yard marker, with a football resting on the ground. Bill would pick up the ball and run 10 yards. When Bill picked up the ball, the linemen charged. When Bill stopped, the linemen stopped. Several times up and down the field—charged 10 yards and stop. At the end of the big game of huskies made a murderous assault on the water bucket.

Heavy Work Begins.
There was nothing but light work Monday—going down under punts, backs practicing the breaking up of passes, the linemen, in addition to their charge, spending more time with the bucking machine and the ends getting in some dirty jabs at the dummy pit.

GAMES OF OCTOBER 8

Georgia Tech..... Tulane.....
Alabama..... Yale.....
Vanderbilt..... L. S. U.....
Mercer..... Center.....
Florida..... Furman.....
Auburn.....

NAME..... PHONE.....

Do you know football? Do you think you can pick 'em better than the experts? Do you follow the game closely? Well, here's your chance to give your knowledge of football a workout. To get some competition with the experts.

Attached herewith is a blank containing a list of six southern grid games for next Saturday. Space has been left to enter the score of each game. Pull out the pencil and pad, collect your "dope," begin figuring and pick your winner—and the score. Put it down opposite the game. Fill in your name, address and telephone number and mail the blank to the Football Contest Editor of The Constitution, before noon Friday.

If you have picked the score of each game, or a larger number than any other person—then you can call by The Constitution office after Tuesday next, and collect a pair of tickets to the Tech-Alabama game to be played here Saturday week.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS
BY DICK HAWKINS.

Here's Your Chance.
The bemuddled villain of the old-time "meller drummer" used to say "R-r-revenge is sweet," and twirl his hirsute appendage with a terrifying twist.

Today the villain of this literary effort is mouthing similar words. The time is coming when the tables will be turned and this poor scribbler will have an opportunity to chuckle at someone else's bun guesses.

All this talk of guesses and villains means just this: The readers of The Constitution will have an opportunity this week to become addicts to the football "dope" habit.

In another place in this sport section will be found a list of six southern games for Saturday, October 8. Opposite the names of all the 14 schools will be spaces for scores. Any reader of The Constitution, except employees of the paper and their relatives may fill out one of the blanks and mail it to the football contest editor of The Constitution.

After the games are played Saturday the prognosticator guessing nearest to the six actual scores will be given a pair of tickets to the Tech-Alabama game on October 15.

There, now all ye tipsters who love to gaze into the crystal of the gridiron, do your gazing and send the result to this department. The contest is free to all and there are no strings whatsoever attached to the contest.

This plan of The Constitution sports department is inaugurated with the sole purpose of stimulating interest in football and to furnish a medium for the tipsters who have no public outlet for their "dope."

W. of the press who risk our reputations by selecting winners in football contests each Saturday during the season realize fully that many an expert in this picking game has no medium of expression and this contest will give him (or her) a chance to tempt fate with a guess or two.

Look elsewhere in this section and you will find the details of the contest.

Mr. Berlenbach Coming.
After seeing W. L. (Young) Stirling, the Macon papa, in many a pushover in Atlanta ring the boxing ring, this city will probably welcome a chance to see the man who whipped all the championship aspirations out of W. L. last year.

Paul Berlenbach, the New York Dutchman who was king of the light-heavyweight for two years, is scheduled to visit Atlanta on October 13 and exhibit his fistful wares against some other devotee of the art.

It is so long since Atlanta has had a good look at a champion or "just-bare" champion that the diving Dutchman should draw well here. Who he will fight here next week is still a deep secret, but unless Paul has changed considerably in the past few months the gentleman of the opposition will have a rather difficult road to travel.

BERLENBACH STARTS COME-BACK HERE FOR GAME WITH FURMAN

BY GEORGE CLARK, JR.
Macon, Ga., October 3.—Two of the most prominent of S. I. A. A. backfield stars will match wits here Saturday afternoon when Mercer and Furman clash—the two notables are none other than "Phoney" Smith and "Whiter" Rawls.

These two gentlemen—Smith, of Mercer, and Rawls, of Furman—have for the past two years literally set the woods on fire with their respective brilliance.

To begin with, Phoney Smith is probably better known than Rawls. He is fast and adept at broken-field running. Several times last year and the year before Smith got through some of the south's best lines for gains. His educated toe has kept Mercer supporters confident of the extra point.

Rawls established himself with his exhibition against Georgia last fall when he scored a touchdown and a field goal for Furman. Only last week, against North Carolina, the South Carolina star made numerous long runs.

Eyes of Mercer will be turned towards Rawls; eyes of Furman will be centered upon Smith.

Today's workout was brief. Coach Moore thought that the boys needed a rest after Saturday's hard affair, so he only ran them through a few signal drills. Tomorrow and the next day will find harder work—a scrimmage probably will be staged Thursday.

Berlenbach's fight here is the first of a series calculated to put him right back in line for another shot at the championship. Also it is the first time that Berly, conqueror of Stirling and other ambitious young pugilists, has been in the ring.

Very likely it will be the last, particularly if Berlenbach gets back at the top, for he is not fond of traveling. That being so, he may need a rest after Saturday's hard affair, so he only ran them through a few signal drills. Tomorrow and the next day will find harder work—a scrimmage probably will be staged Thursday.

Berlenbach's fight here is the first of a series calculated to put him right back in line for another shot at the championship. Also it is the first time that Berly, conqueror of Stirling and other ambitious young pugilists, has been in the ring.

Women's Club Tournament Play Begins

Favorites Survive in Qualifying Rounds of Tourney At East Lake.

BY WHITNER CARY.
Although some of the scores which were turned in by the 26 feminine golfers making up the qualifying list in the East Lake club championship which began Monday night gave grounds for the six at the pre-tournament meeting, the favorites gained the championship list.

Topping the list of qualifiers and at times shooting the brilliant brand golf that enabled her to annex the city championship a few months ago is Miss Rosalie Mayer. The city champion was well on her game during the outgoing jaunt and turned in a 47, a 44 and a 43, for a total of 134, breaking 90. Close on her heels but one stroke away came Mrs. Clarence Bradley. The former city champion started out in a whirlwind fashion and turned with a 41. Like Miss Mayer, she found her troubles on the return trip and had to be content with a 50, which gave her 91.

The first round of the championship, which gets under way this morning, provides some heated matches. Chief among these might be mentioned the one in which Mrs. Helen Dargatz Lowndes, making her first tournament appearance of the season, meets Miss Mayer. The encounter, which brings Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. L. H. Beck together also offers plenty of excitement.

An innovation was inaugurated at this tournament by having a nine-hole flight competition. The idea proved very popular, as no less than six rising golfers availed themselves of a chance at competition without having to extend their energies over the 18-hole route.

The pairings for Tuesday follow:
Championship Flight—Mrs. Helen Lowndes..... Mrs. C. E. Beck.....
Mrs. Clarence Bradley plays Mrs. L. H. Beck.....
Mrs. Margaret Maddox plays Mrs. W. G. Beck.....
Mrs. T. T. Williams plays Mrs. M. D. Beck.....

Second Flight—
Mrs. L. B. Thompson plays Mrs. George Nicholson.....
Mrs. Jimmie Pattillo plays Mrs. O. D. Keeler.....

Nabers, whose home is at Birmingham, Ala., is a splendid running mate for this Barnes and they together form a flashy combination for the Lexington Cade.

Clemson beat Auburn for the first time since 1906 Saturday. The Tigers won by a toe, 3 to 0. Josh Cody's rejuvenation of this team is being called remarkably by football critics. The Clemson team having now gone through two games with well-versed opponents without a point being registered against it. "Bud" Eskew, Clemson back, promises to develop into a first-class passer.

Canterbury Wins Big Steeplechase

New York, October 3.—(AP)—Bayard Warren's Canterbury, under a perfect ride by A. Williams, scored in a sensational finish today in winning the Harbor Hill steeplechase, approximately two miles over the Aqueduct course. Skeladdle was second and Warfield third. Bangle, the favorite, finished a poor fourth.

Bangle took the lead and held it until the last fence, where he stopped. Canterbury jumped into the lead and won by a length. Skeladdle beat Warfield by a like distance for the place. The race was worth $6,000. The time was 4:09 1-5.

The speed gained in basketball makes Bullard a contender for honors as an end on Tech's varsity this fall. There are a few ahead of him, but the battle for a regular flank position on the Tornado this year is a tough one, and you might see this young man in action before the season is over. He prepped at Charlotte, N. C., and his eagerness—over six feet he measures—with 170 pounds to give him a good build for an end. After football season ends keep your eyes on this senior in basketball.

Georgia Begins Work for Yale Tilt Saturday

Take Light Workout Monday; Heavy Work Gets Under Way Today.

Athens, Ga., October 3.—(Special.) Monday marked the first day of a week of intensive training for the Georgia Bulldogs in preparation for their annual conflict with the Yale Bulldogs in New Haven next Saturday. The day's work itself was slight, consisting mostly of setting up exercises and talks by the coaches to their respective divisions. Merhe with the line, Crowley with the backs, and Woodruff as general supervisor. A lecture was given by the coaches to the entire squad Monday night.

Coach George Woodruff discussed the Bulldogs' victory over Virginia at length. "We had a football team that was really two touchdowns better. All the breaks were in our
